GERALD CHAPMAN EXECUTED WITH NEW MECHANICAL HANGING DEVICE

Silently Meets Fate for Murdering Policeman in Connecticut—Enters Chamber Unsupported.

PRONOUNCED DEAD
IN SEVEN MINUTES

Condemned Man's Lawyer Made Final Appeal to Governor After Board Refused Commutation.

By OLIVER H. P. GARRETT.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
CONNECTICUT STATE PRISON,
Wethersfield, Conn., April 6.—
The tale of Gerald Chapman ended at 11 minutes and 15 seconds after midnight this morning.
Chapman died the way he lived:
silently. He swaggered into the death chamber with his head high, wearing a light green suit, ornamented only by the new ropes swinging from the ceiling.
A Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. Michael P. Barry, walked slowly ahead of him.

Chapman did not need the support of the two huge prison guards who marched solemnly beside him.
His arms were strapped before him, tightly, by straps which bandaged his body. He wore the new civilian suit of dark, cheap material which he had donned eight hours before.

His bound wrists made his shoulders seem very broad indeed.
His waist even slimmer than before.

More than a score of men were waiting in the curious chamber for him to appear.

It was 11:55 o'clock when the pale, courteous George H. Bradley, prison parole officer, whose unpleasant duty it is to attend all executions as time keeper, stood in the center of the big front room of the prison, cluttered with newspaper men and telegraphers, and motioned with his head.

"Let's go," he said, and the group marched to the execution room.

The door of the chamber, which had been closed behind, hung partially open. In the aperture appeared the grave, spectacled, almost scholarly face of George H.
Starr, deputy warden, and Chapman's constant companion for a year. In his capacity of the man bearing the sole responsibility for the prisoner's safekeeping.

The door closed softly. It reopened an instant later. Through it could be seen the door directly across the green painted hall, leading to the death cell, where Chapman spent eight hours before his death, within 20 paces of the noose.

Chapman appears.
In the open doorway stood Fred Barry, hands folded across his rotund stomach. He stepped forward. At that instant Chapman came in view. He swaggered—there is no exaggeration in that word—between the huge and gloomy guards who have accompanied his misfortune since he was brought to Connecticut to stand trial for murder.

Briskly the bandit was hurried to the spot a few feet inside—opposite the noose that hung at his back.

State Parole Officer George H.
Bradley, standing by with the black cap, placed it in position on the condemned man's head. The guards, stooping quickly, pulled another strap about the ankles of the slight, motionless figure.

In the far corner of the brightly lighted room—approximately 20 feet—Warden Scott stepped on the button that set the hanging machine at work.

There was a slight thud, a crazy upward fling of the taut body, a more grotesque downward flop as the rope slackened and tightened again, and Gerald Chapman had been hanged.

Dr. H. B. Barry, prison physician, and Dr. E. G. Fox, medical examiner of the town of Wethersfield, stepped forward. The wind lass hidden in the corner of the chamber creaked slightly and the body was lowered the five feet to the floor. A rapid examination and Chapman "officially" pronounced dead.

Eyes Pale, Emotionless.
Chapman entered the door at 4 minutes and 15 seconds after midnight. He shook his shoulders loose from the light grasp of the guards. Other guards closed in.

ALCOHOL RULING WORRIES DRIVERS

More Than 200 Revoked Permits Affected by Decision.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Prohibition officials showed considerable concern today over the decision of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in New York yesterday declaring Treasury regulations for revocation of alcohol denaturing permits without a hearing were illegal.

At first glance the decision was regarded as a severe blow to enforcement plans. A preliminary estimate indicated that under more than 213 permits which have been revoked since last November would have to be reconsidered and formal hearings allowed in each case. This weapon has been the chief reliance of Assistant Secretary Andrews in his fight against diversion of alcohol. The case was brought by William J. Higgins, one of 12 manufacturers who refused renewal of permits by former Prohibition Administrator John A. Foster of New York.

ARMY CHAPLAIN'S DEFENSE

His Counsel Says Letter Sent to Girl Was Forged.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The charges against Capt. Orville E. Clamptitt, army chaplain being tried by court-martial here on complaint preferred in behalf of Miss Lucille Swallow of Lawrence, Kan., are a combination of perjury and forgery, Lieut. Frederick Wenneberg, assistant defense counsel, said today in opening the defense side of the hearing.

The particular letter in which the chaplain is said to have admitted his responsibility was characterized by Lieut. Wenneberg as a forged document, contrived to blacken Capt. Clamptitt. He also alleged Miss Swallow perjured herself when she said Capt. Clamptitt gave her $50 to have an operation performed. The defense counsel admitted that the chaplain was acquainted with the girl but denied her statement that he kept company with her. The case against the chaplain was dropped at one time, Lieut. Wenneberg said, but later was reopened.

Jack Daniel Bond Approved.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Harry E. Straton of Cincinnati today furnished a bond of $12,500 for his release from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., where he is serving a sentence after conviction in connection with what was known as the Jack Daniel conspiracy at St. Louis, Mo. He is the eleventh person released upon order by the Supreme Court of the United States pending an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of appeals here.

Man Hurt in Collision.

By the Associated Press.

A car driven by Charles Belknap, 44, of 5153 Delmar boulevard, collided with one driven by Waldo Elder, 5717 Delmar, as the latter was backing into a lot on Washington boulevard near Theresa avenue at 4 p. m. Belknap suffered fractured ribs.

Mrs. Frieda Haemchen, 48, of 2354 Cherokee street was injured about the back in an unusual accident at 7:10 p. m. She was a passenger on a southbound Grand street car, near Utah place, when a table leg, protruding from a furniture truck which passed the street car, broke several windows and struck her. The truck driver did not stop.

DOUBLE CASE OF FELONIOUS FLIGHT AFTER ACCIDENT

Miss Nora Walker Caught Between Auto Truck and Touring Car, Drivers of Which Both Escape.

HIT WHEN CROSSING STREET IN THE RAIN

Victim Suffers Concussion of Brain, Fractured Hip, Lacerated Scalp and Is in Serious Condition.

A double case of felonious flight from the scene of an accident developed at 10:20 o'clock last night when Miss Nora Walker, 25 years old, a milliner of 4509 Chouteau avenue, was run down and seriously injured at Grand boulevard and Market street.

Miss Walker was crossing from the west to the east side of Grand when she was caught between a northbound Ford truck and a southbound touring car. Both cars failed to stop. It was raining at the time. Miss Walker was taken to city hospital with concussion of the brain, fractured pelvis and lacerated scalp.

Woman, 63, Hurt by Auto.

Miss Mary Niebling, 63 years old, of 3331 South Eighth street, suffered a fractured left leg and fractured ribs when struck by an automobile at Grand boulevard and Gravois avenue, at 11:15 p. m. The car was driven by George Crowl, 63, of 3553 Bamberger avenue, who could not be seen by Miss Niebling in the rain.

Returning home from school, Joseph Lee, 14, of 913 North Grand, was struck by a truck driven by Walter Frederickson, 4247 Delmar boulevard, in front of 705 North Fourteenth street, at 2:22 p. m. yesterday. He was taken to city hospital with a fractured right leg and scalp lacerations.

Miss Mary Jane Wilson, 20, of 3940 Chouteau avenue, was injured about the head and abdomen when struck in front of her home by the automobile of Ralph Fisher, Centerville, Ill., at 8:45 p. m. Fisher was not arrested, as Miss Wilson said it was raining and she had covered her head with a newspaper.

ON HONEYMOON

MRS. E. J. LINCHY

A BRIDE TWO WEEKS

Heiress to Half of $249,000 Estate Now Mrs. Edward Halteman.

Mrs. Kathryn Foland Linchey, heiress to half the $249,000 estate of her first husband, Edmond J. Linchey, who died last Sept. 29, was married two weeks ago to Edward Halteman, 22-year-old former St. Louis University student, it became known today.

Mr. Halteman is a son of H. R. Halteman of 71 Aberdeen place. His mother declined today to comment on the marriage, saying she did not have complete information on it. Her son and his bride are said to be in California.

The former Mrs. Linchey had a divorce suit pending against her first husband when he died. He left half of his estate to her and the remainder for their daughter, Ellen Ina, now three years old. Mr. Linchey was a graduate of the St. Louis University law school and a grandson of Col. Ed. Butler, Democratic boss, from whom he inherited the fortune.

Prior to her second marriage Mrs. Edward Halteman lived at 6951 Pershing. She is 29 years old. She was married to Linchey in 1917.

MADDOX PROPOSES TO CREATE FIVE SCHOOL DIVISIONS

tendents is further filled by a recommendation that from time to time the superintendent be authorized to detach principals of schools for supervisory work. "This shall be construed to include the appointment of evening and summer school principals at a maximum salary for these positions for the purpose of supervising those schools," the superintendent's report states. In line with that recommendation, the superintendent asks authority to detach at once five principals for supervisory duty.

The Committee on Instruction yesterday approved the recommendations by a vote of 2 to 1. Stephen M. Wagner and Arthur A. Blumeyer voted for the plan. Chairman John C. Tobin opposed it. It will be reported to the full board next Tuesday night. There is a possibility that action may be deferred, but the plan's supporters prophesy its ultimate adoption.

The plan was presented by Supt. Maddox as making for greater efficiency in the department, and a reduction in superfluous supervision. The number of assistants to the superintendent was established at six when the city schools were divided into six geographical districts and it was necessary for an assistant superintendent to be placed in charge of each. Two years ago a reclassification of schools according to their work was made. The superintendent now feels that three assistants can exercise supervision where six were necessary before.

Another View.

Some members of the Board minority place a different complexion upon the plan. They have asserted that the superintendent defers in his decisions to a majority of the board, thus abrogating to a degree the duties and powers of his office. Simultaneously, he has sacrificed the opinion of his assistant superintendents in matters affecting policy to the extent that he does not have conferences with them as his predecessors did and in line with the custom in other cities.

Hence, they assert, a reduction of numbers from six to three will strengthen the superintendent's hand. It has been known for some time that Miss Ernst would be demoted or discharged. She has been out of sympathy with many of the acts and policies of the superintendent. She has many supporters and admirers among women and any action of the superintendent aimed point blank at her would have aroused a storm. Some members of the board feel that the superintendent's present proposed change is to accomplish primarily the reduction of Miss Ernst, while not on its face seeming to have that purpose.

On the other hand the majority members feel that Miss Ernst has caused dissension and that dissension in any organization hurts administration. They feel further that Miss Ernst has the backing of the League of Women Voters for ultimate elevation to the superintendent's position, to be accomplished by the election of a larger percentage of women to the board.

Mrs. Bush Opposes Plan.

Mrs. B. F. Bush, a member of the board, said after yesterday's meeting that she "never would consent" to the superintendent's plan for reduction of the assistants named and would have something emphatic to say when the proposal was brought before the board.

It was evident that members of the board generally recognized the superintendent's proposal as the most radical in many years. Though only a committee meeting, yesterday's session was attended by nine of the 12 members. President Pahrenkrog, Mrs. Bush, Emil J. Barth, Ben Weldie, Loris A. Schollmeier, Henry Meier and the three committee members. Mrs. Elias Michael, a member of the board, who publicly criticized the Superintendent, is in Europe.

A resolution of the board passed a year ago cleared the way for the Superintendent's proposal. By it, the employment of assistant superintendents was made for a definite period instead of a term of two years as formerly. The Superintendent since has had power, subject to approval by the board, of removing an assistant at any time.

MUD-CAKED COFFIN IN COURT AT TRIAL

It Is Exhibit in Case of Negro Charged With Fraud Against Insurance Company.

A wooden coffin, caked with mud from Father Dixon's cemetery in St. Louis County, where it was dug up four months ago, rested on the counsel table in Circuit Judge Mix's court today, during the trial of Charles L. Howell, Negro undertaker, of 2745 Chouteau, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses.

Howell is jointly indicted with Raymond Allen, a Negro, the accusation being that they falsely represented that Allen had died in order to collect on a $3000 life insurance policy. A steel coffin supposed to have contained the body of Allen was buried in the cemetery with the body of James Moore, another Negro, in it. Moore's coffin, the one now testified to be a police officer's exhibit, last fall at the request of the insured's uncle, John Allen. Under-Howell paid the first premium on the policy, $20, said Brown.

Suspicion was aroused in the mind of Homer Phillips, attorney for the insurance company, when he noted that Allen's death certificate showed that death occurred on Dec. with interment on Dec. 2. Investigation and the arrest of Allen and Howell followed. Allen took a severance and is to be tried later.

WASHINGTON U. TO OPEN NEW ENGINEERING COURSE

Industrial Research Department Will Be Patterned After Similar One at Pittsburgh.

A new Department of Industrial Engineering and Research at Washington University, to be opened next fall, was announced today. Its activity will consist of research work by a system of fellowships founded by local firms which may be interested in the activities.

The department will be patterned after a similar one in the Mellon Institute at Pittsburgh, and will cost about $20,000 a year for the first five years. About one-third of the expense has been guaranteed by firms which have subscribed from $200 to $1000 a year.

$20,000 in Jewels Stolen.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Fifty-eight uniformed men daily watch the three entrances to the apartment building at 375 Park avenue. It was made known today that a safe containing $20,000 in jewels had been stolen from the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Norton, in the building. The Nortons are at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Pastor First Baptist Church.

Other messages, of the same tenor, were solicited by Johnson, and signed by the Rev. Zeph Ford Bond, First Baptist Church; the Rev. John H. Cudlipp, First Methodist Church; the Rev. Clinton D. Bowman, First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Ira R. Sidwell, Lansdowne Church of Christ; the Rev. J. M. Pepper, Lansdowne Baptist Church; and Supt. Johnson, all of East St. Louis; E. P. Williams, Hendersen, Mo.; Vernon C. Cummins, Marion, P. E. Harris, O'Fallon; C. H. Reed, Sparta, and E. H. Zipprodt, Pinckneyville.

Supt. Johnson admitted that he wrote the messages from East St. Louis, and signed the names of the ministers, after getting the consent of the ministers in personal talks or by telephone. The messages were worded differently, so as to have an individual appearance.

"I do not know Judge English," Supt. Johnson said to a Post-Dispatch reporter, "but I have felt for some time that the attack on him was a wet and dry fight, and that the Anti-Saloon League ought to take a hand in it."

"I do not know anything about the charges against Judge English, but I know that his official acts as to punishing violators of the Volstead act have been satisfactory to the League. The telegrams were sent to urge a fair trial."

BOOTLEGGERS OF KANSAS CITY PLAN INSURANCE SCHEME

Police Hear of Meeting to Devise Support for Families of Prisoners.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—Alarmed at the rigid enforcement of the prohibition law here, a mass meeting of Kansas City bootleggers was held here Sunday, according to information received by Sergeant J. A. Vincent, of the police raiding squad, to make a combination to protect the illicit liquor industry.

In addition to discussing ways and means of evading punishment, it is said, they gave consideration to the establishment of a fund to insure those who receive sentences to jail and the rock pile.

It was pointed out at the meeting that many a bootlegger's family was left destitute for periods of from 60 to 90 days when a still was raided. According to still owner Vincent, the matter was taken under advisement and a committee appointed to discuss such an "insurance plan."

PATRONAGE OF AIR MAIL SERVICE SOLICITED HERE

Postmaster and Chamber of Commerce Write Business Men:

Starts April 15.

Appeals for patronage of the Chicago-St. Louis aerial route, which will give St. Louis overnight mail service to New York, were sent out to business houses today by Postmaster Alt and the Chamber of Commerce.

The first plane of the Robertson Aircraft Corporation, contract carriers, will take off from Lambert-St. Louis field at 4 p. m. April 15 and planes will be run daily thereafter except Saturday and Sunday. Southbound planes, carrying mail of the previous day from New York and Eastern points will leave Chicago for St. Louis daily except Sunday and Monday.

"Remember," said Postmaster Alt in his letter, "mail for transportation via air mail service closes at the main postoffice at Eighteenth and Walnut streets daily at 3 p. m. and is due at Chicago at 12:20 a. m. next day, and New York at 7:20 a. m. next day."

Rates for the mail service will be 10 cents an ounce to Chicago and 15 cents from here to New York.

The schedule of the route is arranged to allow stops at Peoria and Springfield and arrival at St. Louis, Chicago, in time to connect with the transcontinental route.

POLICE PISTOL EXPERT REGAINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Patrolman Frank W. Evans Never Fired a Revolver Before 1917.

The best marksman in the Police Department is Patrolman Frank W. Evans of the Carr Street District. After winning the annual revolver tournament in 1923 and 1924, he lost out in 1925, but this year he came back as champion.

There were 1750 policemen in the tournament at the start, but only 54 experts remained for the finals, which were held March 30-31 at the Laclede Avenue Police Station. The finalists took 20 shots at two stationary targets and 10 shots at a moving target, all targets being 50 feet distant. Evans won with what Lieut. Bosch, in charge of the contest, calls the "remarkable score" of 279 out of a maximum of 300 points.

Sergeant Michael T. Stanton, of Central District, was second with 270 points, and Patrolman John P. Criswell of Deer Street District was third with 267. Among the 10 next, Lieut. Bosch was fourth with 265. Evans, Stanton and Criswell will receive gold, silver and bronze medals, respectively, from the Board of Police Commissioners.

Of all who competed, 5 per cent qualified as experts, 18.3 per cent as marksmen and 76.3 as first-class shots. Thirty per cent of the latter failed to qualify the first time, but were allowed to shoot until they did qualify.

Evans is 35 years old and resides with his wife and two children at 4411 Hunt avenue. He was a laborer before joining the police force in 1917.

"I never shot a revolver before I became a policeman," he said today. "Once on the force, I took advantage of all the practice and lessons I could get. When I went to visit relatives in the country, I used to take my revolver along and practice. The secret of marksmanship is in not firing promiscuously, but in shooting once and then inspecting the target to find out why you hit or missed."

Arrested After Falling Into Lake.

Thomas Sweney, 70 years old, a transient, was admiring his reflection in a lake at Lyon Park, Broadway and Arsenal street, yesterday afternoon, when he slipped and fell into the water.

He was rescued by a park watchman and taken to city hospital, found to be under influence of liquor, and arrested.

TUSIN, French North Africa, April 6.—The plane piloted by Capt. Estevez, leader of the Spanish Madrid-to-Manila flight, landed here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The two other Spanish planes continued their flight to Tripoli with planes took off from Algiers this morning.

MADRID, April 6.—The air squadron, flying from Madrid to Manila, Philippine Islands, completed the first 500-mile link of the 10,000-mile journey with its arrival at the flying field in Algiers, French North Africa.

Since none of the three machines carries radio equipment, news of their progress was received only after their arrival at Algiers.

The flight was led by Capt. Estevez, who has been christened El Cano, after Juan Sebastian Del Cano, the first circumnavigator of the globe, who after the death of Magellan, finished the memorable trip in 1522.

The airman even refused to carry food with them. Only a few vacuum bottles of coffee were taken along.

The Spanish-Philippine Committee entrusted the airman with the following message to be delivered at Manila:

"The committee, praying for the safe arrival of the airman at Manila, sends greetings."

Woman's Screams Roust Intruder.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson of 4445 West Papin street, found a Negro in a bedroom of her home when she ascended from the basement at 10:30 p. m. The Negro stepped from behind a door where she entered the room threatening her if she cried out. She screamed and the intruder fled. Nothing was stolen.

John McCully's Funeral.

The body of John M. McCully, former reitly jaller, who died yesterday in the State penitentiary, was brought here today for funeral services tomorrow from a chapel at 3634 Gravois avenue to Valhalla Cemetery. McCully asked that he be buried in Valhalla beside his wife, Mrs. Jeanette McCully, for whose murder he was sentenced.

GAG RULE APPLIED IN TARIFF DEBATE, DENNIS CHARGES

Democratic Commissioner Tells Senate Body Three Members Are Allowed
Only One-Fifth of Time.

DECLARES GLASSIE LACKS "HORSE SENSE"

But He Makes Witness Feel
"Like Village Idiot Before Michiavelli" During an Argument.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 6.—The gag rule is being used by Chairman Marvin in conducting debates on the tariff commission, Commissioner Dennis, a Democrat, charged today before the Senate Tariff Investigating Committee.

Under the present procedure, he said, two-fifths of the time allotted to debate is consumed by Commissioner Glassie, one-fifth by Chairman Marvin and one-fifth by Commissioner Costigan, leaving only one-fifth for the other three members.

"I protested to the commission over this slipshod method of conducting debate," he said. Dennis said he had been criticized by Chairman Marvin for writing President Coolidge at Swampscott about the straw hat case, while at the same time Chairman Marvin wrote the President about tariff cases without the commission being advised.

Referring to Commissioner Glassie, Dennis declared that he was the "most subtle, adroit and learned" lawyer in the United States, but lacked "horse sense." "I feel like a village idiot in the presence of Michiavelli when he starts one of his legal arguments," the witness said, "but he and his sycophant, Chairman Marvin, have turned the commission into a debating society and an army never has succeeded being led by a debating society."

Dennis declared when he went on the commission, he attempted to be a harmonizer, but that he had developed into a sort of teahouse. Reiterating his charge that the flexible provision of the tariff law was being "misadministered," he asserted the "loped, ill-balanced administration" by the present commission is killing the flexible provision.

Chapman Buried in Consecrated Ground
By the Associated Press.
HARTFORD, Conn., April 6.—In a plot of ground in Mt. St. Benedict's cemetery, just over the Connecticut line, lies the body of Gerald Chapman.

No priest went with the body to its final resting place and there was no service of the Roman Catholic Church. The body was claimed by the Rev. Michael P. Berry, Catholic chaplain of the prison, who had said he would see that Chapman was given a burial such as he would desire a friend should have. Father Barry, however, did not go to the cemetery.

He already had departed on a vacation of two months, leaving no word of what had transpired during the three hours he was in the room with Chapman across the entry from the death chamber. Chapman's body was hurried from the prison soon after the hanging and taken to the undertaker's parlors of J. C. Dillon. Dillon refused to permit anyone to enter his place.

The funeral arrangements were kept secret, the fact that the body was buried in Mt. St. Benedict's cemetery was not made known until after the burial and then by Frederick J. Groehl, chief of Chapman's counsel. The little cemetery is six miles from the prison. The grave is in a plot of consecrated ground, it having been found that Chapman had been baptized in the Roman Catholic Church.

The burial took place shortly after sunrise. It was understood that there were present besides Dillon, Groehl and Attorney Ray M. Wiley of Springfield, Mass., and a sister of Chapman whose identity was not revealed.

So far as the prison authorities know, Chapman had no property other than two ordinary collar buttons and a book of synonyms which he used in his cell. The book was well thumbed and it was evident he had used it frequently in his reading.

swiftly behind him and the door closed quietly. Chapman took one look about the chamber. His pale eyes held no visible emotion. At the instant a guard pulled down over his head, a black hood, like an empty pillowcase, Starr stepped forward with the noose. It dropped on the black hooded head. The knot was fixed in a fraction of a second, directly back of the left ear.

There was a faint bustle in the corner where were grouped the standing witnesses in front of the Warden. There was a grunt-like noise of the dropping weight. Chapman's body, which had stood for that brief instant relaxed as if death were something to be regarded with complete equanimity, was jerked 12 feet in the air, its black hooded top bending forward like that of an old rag doll. The rope slackened, the body dropped, as if in a groove and swung idly, like a thing of cotton and cloth.

Abundant Rather Than Horrible.
Dr. Battey, prison physician, stepped forward, his fingers lightly on the limp wrists. The men scattered about the room were as if by a camera in fixed pose.

There remained only the long wait in silence thereafter. Seven minutes and five seconds after the Warden had pressed the metal plunger, releasing the weight, Chapman was dead. His body was lowered into a huge wicker basket and carried away by an undertaker's man. It will be buried today as quietly as possible by Father Barry.

Governor Refuses Reprieve.
Late yesterday Frederick J. Groehl, Chapman's chief counsel, tears running down his hard, set face, had pleaded with Gov. Trumbull in the prison office after a hearing before the Pardon Board to grant a reprieve.

"No," said the Governor. "You have shown me nothing to warrant it, Mr. Groehl."

Ray M. Wiley, the frayed little lawyer from Springfield, pushed forward. "Governor," he said, excitedly. "We have a new witness."

The Governor shook his head decisively. "No," he said, "I can do nothing. The courts have decided against you and I must do the same."

Groehl turned away. He was crying and his teeth clinched a cigar. "God, I hate to tell chaplain it's all over, but I've got to," he said. Groehl's face must have told him the news long before the hearing lips moved. They faced each other through the mesh of the cell.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY'S POPULATION ESTIMATED AT 135,000

New Directory of 896 Pages Also Gives Telephone Numbers of Residents.

The population of St. Louis County is estimated at 135,000 from figures obtained from the St. Louis County Chamber of Commerce and published with other statistical data concerning the county in Polk's St. Louis County Directory issued yesterday.

The introduction of the directory, which contains 896 pages, contrasts the present population of the county to the population of 25,000 in 1877, when the city and county separated. The guide also states the assessed value of property in St. Louis County in 1923 was $106,649,420, of $24,807,800 more than in 1920. Capital stock in St. Louis County banks increased from $70,000 in 1900 to $1,491,000 in 1924, according to the figures compiled by the County Chamber of Commerce.

Features of the directory include not only the usual compilation of names and businesses throughout the county but also classifications in which the inhabitants of several towns are listed under the town in which they live, a county telephone directory in which the names of telephone subscribers are arranged alphabetically by exchanges, and a classified business directory.

DECISION DENYING DIVORCE TO DR. C. L. KLENK UPHELD

Court of Appeals Finds Physician's Wife's Complaints Were Not All Ungrounded.

Dr. Charles L. Klenk of 3143 Hallday avenue today was denied a divorce from Mrs. Mayme Klenk, a decision handed down by the Court of Appeals. The divorce was originally denied two years ago by Circuit Judge Calhoun. Klenk's appeal introduced statements to the effect that his wife had been neglecting and fault-finding, and had complained of her living quarters.

In affirming the original decision, the Court of Appeals noted that Mrs. Klenk had not been clothed in the style which a physician's wife is entitled to expect, and that she had been sent alone to Colorado for her health, and not only by a chauffeur upon her return. It was further noted that Dr. Klenk showed more tenderness to his wife, although charges of misconduct previously made against Dr. Klenk had not been substantiated by the evidence.

TACNA-ARICA PARLEY OPENS
Two Envoys Meet at Door, Lock Arms and Go In.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Diplomatic representatives of Chile and Peru met today with Secretary Kellogg at the State Department in the initial conference of the negotiations for direct settlement of the Tacna-Arica dispute.

Ambassador Herman Velarde, with his aids, composed the Peruvian group, while the Chilean delegation, headed by Ambassador Cruchaga, included Counsellor Aguado and Secretary Cohen. The two ambassadors met first in the reception room of the Secretary's suite. At the door leading to the Secretary's office they halted and bowed formally.

Neither cared to enter the chamber in advance of the other, but this complication was quickly solved as they locked arms and entered the room side by side, exchanging greetings at the same time.

Secretary Mellon Quits Bermuda.
By the Associated Press.
HAMILTON, Bermuda, April 6.—The American Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew W. Mellon, who has been in Bermuda for an Easter vacation, sailed for New York today.

His daughter, Miss Ailsa, and his son, Paul, are remaining for a longer visit.

Priest Silent.
What occurred between the walls of the cell in which Father Barry stayed with the condemned man nothing is known. Father Barry previously had said that he would answer no questions and would give no information as to his personal contact with Chapman during the many weeks that he visited him.

Prison guards who had Chapman in their care for a year, today described him as an exemplary prisoner, always courteous and never complained about his cell or food.

Two women sometime ago sought to see him, saying they were sisters. They left when questioned as to their claims. No other persons claiming to be relatives ever tried to visit him.

Thousands of words, describing the execution of Chapman, were sent direct from the prison by the 50 newspaper men to all parts of the United States.

Dry Officer Forgets Jack Daniel Figures

Reed, "to refuse a permit on evidence which may be satisfactory to you but which you could not sustain in a court of law."

Not safe to Grant Power. Reed kept to his line of questioning and at last he scored. "Is it safe," he asked, "to rest this power in any body of men when it has already been demonstrated that large corruption exists in the enforcement of the law?"

"No," admitted Andrews. "I don't believe that it is." Senator Means of Colorado, dry chairman of the committee, cut in at this point to remark that he did not believe that Congress would grant the unlimited authority which Reed feared.

Reed declared that, under present practice, a man who had been refused a license was confronted with the "almost conclusive presumption" in the courts that the action of the prohibition department was right. Andrews agreed with this estimate of the situation.

"And yet you want that same power in the case of the annual renewal of permits?" demanded Reed. "The administrator is there to protect industry," said Andrews. "Isn't that arbitrary power?" asked Reed. "That is administrative power."

Andrews wound up his statement on this point by saying that he was not familiar with all the details and implications of the proposed law. He had not "thought out" the question whether or not, in giving the failure of the prohibition department to renew a permit should decide the matter on its merits and without the presumption that the department had been right in its ruling.

Asks About Injury to Business.
Reed wanted to know to what extent the legitimate makers of cereal beverages had been injured by the illegal manufacture of highest beer. Andrews promised to get this information and submit it to the committee later.

From official figures, Julien Codman of Boston, attorney representing the wet, brought out that $75 officials have been "separated" from the prohibition unit for cause. He asked Andrews about the reasons for these discharges.

Pointing out that the record showed that 121 had been dismissed for extortion, acceptance of bribes and similar offenses, Codman obtained from Andrews the statement that this did not represent an "unusual situation." Andrews further said that some of the dismissals for corruption had taken place in the last six months.

Replying to more questions along this line, Andrews said that in the early days of prohibition, the chief and natural source of the bootleggers' supply was the illegal withdrawal of whiskey from warehouses. This was some time accomplished, he added, through the collusion of Government agents.

"Have you any assurance at present," asked Codman, "that the liquor now in warehouses cannot be illegally impure whiskey, but liquor which had been heavily diluted?"

"How many druggists have been arrested for engaging in this trade?" asked Reed. "We are making an aggressive campaign," replied Andrews.

"Well," rejoined Reed, "didn't your predecessors also make an aggressive campaign?" Assistant Commissioner Jones said that the cases against druggists were not segregated in the reports, but were all lumped in the total of 82,000 arrests made during the last year.

Before questioning any witnesses today, those seeking a modification of the prohibition enforcement law laid down a preliminary barrage of oratory, which brought in the question of whether a national referendum on the subject would be legal.

Senator Edge (Rep. of New Jersey, a wet, quoted the Democratic platform of 1924 proposing a national referendum on the League of Nations.

"Then you don't think the Democratic National Convention could make an error?" asked Senator Reed (Dem.) of Missouri. "Not in this instance," retorted Edge.

Envoys Pile for Subpoenas.
Senator Walsh (Dem.) of Montana, who was permanent chairman of the 1924 Democratic convention, and who is one of the dry leaders committee, sat silent during the closing of the hearing.

When Edge concluded, Codman renewed his request that the committee issue subpoenas for six witnesses, including Sheriff Roland Curry of Key West, Fla.; Sheriff Robert Baker of Palm Beach, Fla.; and Mr. B. Walborn, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank at Atlanta.

ALCOHOL RULING WORRIES More Than 200 Revoked Permits

Affected by Decision.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The prohibition officials showed considerable concern today over the decision of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in New York yesterday declaring Treasury regulations revocation of alcohol denatification permits without a hearing illegal.

At first glance the decision was regarded as a severe blow to enforcement plans. A preliminary estimate indicated that under more than 213 permits which have been revoked since last November would have to be reconsidered in new hearings allowed in such cases. This weapon has been the chief reliance of Assistant Secretary Andrews in charge of enforcement in his fight against violation of alcohol. The case was brought by William J. Higgins, a brewer, who sought a writ of habeas corpus to force the denial of permits by former Postmaster General John A. Foster of New York.

ARMY CHAPLAIN'S DEFENSE
His Counsel Says Letter Sent to Girl Was Forged.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The charges against Capt. Orville E. Clappitt, army chaplain being tried by court-martial here on complaints preferred in behalf of Miss Lucille Swallow of Lawrence, Kan., are a combination of perjury and forgery.

Lieut. Frederick Wenzner, assistant defense counsel, said today in opening the defense side of the hearing.

The particular letter in which the chaplain is said to have admitted his responsibility was characterized by Lieut. Wenzner as a forged document, contrived by blackmail Capt. Clappitt. He also alleged Miss Swallow perjured herself when she said Capt. Clappitt gave her $50 to have an operation performed. The defense counsel admitted that the chaplain was acquainted with the girl, but denied her statement that he kept company with her. The case against the chaplain was dropped at one time, Lieut. Wenzner said, but later was reopened.

Jack Daniel Bond Approved.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Harry R. Stratton of Cincinnati today furnished a bond of $12,500 for his release from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., where he is serving a sentence after conviction in connection with what was known as the Jack Daniel conspiracy at St. Louis, Mo. He is the eleventh person released upon orders by the Supreme Court of the United States pending an appeal in the United States Circuit Court of appeals here.

ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE
District Attorney Says He Is Victim of Conspiracy.

By the Associated Press.
WAUSAUB, Wis., April 6.—George W. Lippert, District Attorney of Marathon County, and candidate against E. E. Browne of Waupaca for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district, was arrested today on a Federal warrant charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition law and the Federal penal code. He was released on $4000 bond.

Lippert declared he is "absolutely innocent and the victim of a bootlegger's conspiracy."

ALCOHOL RULING WORRIES DRIVERS

More Than 200 Revoked Permits Affected by Decision.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Prohibition officials showed considerable concern today over the decision of the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals in New York yesterday declaring Treasury regulations for revocation of alcohol denaturing permits without a hearing were illegal.

At first glance the decision was regarded as a severe blow to enforcement plans. A preliminary estimate indicated that under the new regulations more than 213 permits would have been revoked since last November. The case was brought by William J. Higgins, one of 13 manufacturers who refused renewal of permits by former Prohibition Administrator John A. Foster of New York.

ARMY CHAPLAIN'S DEFENSE

His Counsel Says Letter Sent to Girl Was Forged.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The charges against Capt. Orville E. Campbell, army chaplain here on leave, preferred in behalf of Miss Lucille Swallow of Lawrence, Kan., are a combination of perjury and forgery, Lieut. Frederick Wennerberg, assistant defense counsel, said today in opening the defense side of the hearing.

The particular letter in which the chaplain is said to have admitted his responsibility was characterized by Lieut. Wennerberg as a forged document, contrived to blackmail Miss Swallow. He also alleged Miss Swallow perjured herself when she said Capt. Campbell gave her $30 to have an operation performed. The defense counsel admitted that the chaplain was acquainted with the girl but denied her statement that he kept company with her. The case against the chaplain was dropped at one time, Lieut. Wennerberg said, but later was reopened.

Jack Daniel Bond Approved.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Harry F. Stratton of Cincinnati today furnished a bond of $12,500 for his release from the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan., where he is serving a sentence after conviction in connection with what was known as the Jack Daniel conspiracy at St. Louis, Mo. He is the person released upon order by the Supreme Court of the United States pending an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of appeals here.

DOUBLE CASE OF FELONIOUS FLIGHT AFTER ACCIDENT

Miss Nora Walker Caught Between Auto Truck and Touring Car, Drivers of Which Both Escape.

HIT WHEN CROSSING STREET IN THE RAIN

Victim Suffers Concussion of Brain, Fractured Hip, Lacerated Scalp and Is in Serious Condition.

A double case of felonious flight from the scene of an accident developed at 10:20 o'clock last night when Miss Nora Walker, 25 years old, a milliner of 4509 Chouteau avenue, was run down and seriously injured at Grand boulevard and Market street.

Miss Walker was crossing from the west to the east side of Grand when she was caught between a northbound Ford truck and a southbound touring car. Both cars failed to stop. It was raining at the time. Miss Walker was taken to city hospital with concussion of the brain, fractured pelvis and lacerated scalp.

Woman, 63, Hurt by Auto.

Miss Mary Niebling, 63 years old, of 321 North Eighteenth street, suffered a fractured left leg and fractured ribs when struck by an automobile at Grand boulevard and Gravois avenue, at 11:25 p. m. The car was driven by George Crowl, 53, of 3523 Bamberger avenue, who said he did not see Miss Niebling in the rain.

Returning home from school, Joseph Lee, 14, of 913 North Grand, was struck by a truck driven by Morris Fiederickson, 4247 Delmar boulevard, in front of 705 North Fourteenth street, at 2:22 p. m. yesterday. He was taken to city hospital with a fractured right leg and scalp lacerations.

Miss Mary Jane Wilson, 20, of 3009 Chouteau avenue, was injured about the head and abdomen when struck in front of her home by the automobile of Ralph Fisher, Centerville, Ill., at 8:45 p. m. Fisher was not arrested, as Miss Wilson said it was raining and she had covered her head with a newspaper.

tendents is further filled by a recommendation that from time to time the superintendent be authorized to detach principals of schools for supervisory work. "This shall be construed to include the appointment of evening and summer school principals at a maximum salary for these positions for the purpose of supervising those schools," the superintendent's report states.

The committee on instruction yesterday approved the recommendations by a vote of 2 to 1. Stephen M. Wagner and Arthur A. Hume voted for the plan. Chairman John C. Tobin opposed it. It will be reported to the full board next Tuesday night. There is a possibility that action may be deferred, but the plan's supporters prophesy its ultimate adoption.

The plan was presented by Supt. Maddox as making for greater efficiency in the department, and a reduction in superfluous supervisory work. The superintendent to the superintendent was established at six when the city schools were divided into six geographical districts and it was necessary for an assistant superintendent to be placed in charge of each. Two years ago a reclassification of schools according to their work was made. The superintendent now feels that three assistants can exercise supervision where six were necessary before.

Another View.

Some members of the Board minority place a different complexion upon the plan. They have asserted that the superintendent defers in his decisions to a majority of the board, thus abrogating to a degree the duties and powers of his office. Simultaneously, he has sacrificed the opinion of his assistant superintendent in matters affecting policy to the extent that he does not have conferences with them as his predecessors did and in line with the custom in other cities.

Hence, they assert, a reduction of numbers from six to three will strengthen the superintendent's hand. It has been known for some time that Miss Ernst would be demoted or discharged. She has been out of sympathy with many of the acts and policies of the superintendent. She has many supporters and admirers among women and any action of the superintendent aimed at her would have aroused a storm. Some members of the board feel that the superintendent's present proposed change is to accomplish primarily the reduction of Miss Ernst while not on its face seeming to have that purpose.

On the other hand, the majority members feel that Miss Ernst has caused dissension and that dissension in any organization hinders administration. They feel further that Miss Ernst has the backing of the League of Women voters for ultimate elevation to the superintendent, to be accomplished by the election of a larger percentage of women to the board.

Mrs. Bush Opposes Plan.

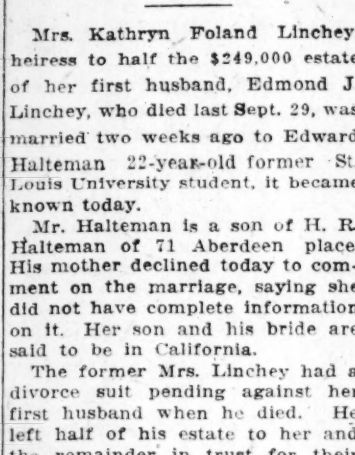

Mrs. E. P. Bush, a member of the board, said after yesterday's meeting that she "never would consent" to the superintendent's plan for reduction of the assistants named and would have something to say when the proposal was brought before the board.

It was evident that members of the board generally recognized the Superintendent's proposal as the most radical in many years. Though only a committee meeting, yesterday's session was attended by nine of the 12 members: President Fahrenkrog, Mrs. Bush, Emil J. Barth, Ben Weldie, Lops A. Clifton, Henry Meyer and the three committee members. Mrs. Elias Michael, a member of the board, who publicly criticized the Superintendent, is in Europe.

A resolution of the board passed a year ago cleared the way for the Superintendent's proposal. By it the employment of assistant superintendents was made for an indefinite period instead of a term of two years as formerly. The Superintendent's proposal was subject to approval by the Board, of removing an assistant at any time.

MUD-CAKED COFFIN IN COURT AT TRIAL

It Is Exhibit in Case of Negro Charged With Fraud Against Insurance Company.

A wooden coffin, caked with mud from Father Dixon's Cemetery in St. Louis County, where it was dug up four months ago, rested on the counsel table in Circuit Judge Mix's court today, during the trial of Charles L. Howell, Negro undertaker, of 2745 Chouteau, charged with obtaining money by false pretenses.

Howell is jointly indicted with Raymond Allen, a Negro, the accusation being that they falsely represented that Allen had died in order to collect on a $3000 life insurance policy. A steel coffin supposed to have contained the body of Allen was buried in the cemetery from 60 to 90 days when a still was raided. According to Sergeant Vincent, the matter was taken under advisement and a committee appointed to discuss such an "insurance plan."

WASHINGTON U. TO OPEN NEW ENGINEERING COURSE

Industrial Research Department Will Be Patterned After Similar One at Pittsburgh.

A new Department of Industrial Engineering and Research at Washington University, to be opened next fall, was announced today. Its activity will consist of research work by a system of fellowships founded by local firms which may be interested in the particular work to be done, a bureau of information available to industrial firms, and special training of students in research work.

The department will be patterned after a similar one in the Mellon Institute at Pittsburgh, and will cost about $20,000 a year for the first five years. About one-third of the expense has been guaranteed by firms which have subscribed from $200 to $1000 a year.

Supt. Johnson admitted that he wrote the messages from East St. Louis, and signed the names of the ministers, after getting the consent of the ministers in personal talks or by telephone. The messages were worded differently, so as to have an individual appearance.

"I do not know Judge English," Supt. Johnson said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "But I have felt for some time that the attack on him was a wet and dry fight, and that the Anti-Saloon League ought to take a hand in it."

"I do not know anything about the charges against Judge English, but I know that the Anti-Saloon League acts as to punishing violators of the Volstead act have been satisfactory to the League. The telegrams were sent to urge a fair trial."

BOOTLEGGERS OF KANSAS CITY PLAN INSURANCE SCHEME

Police Hear of Meeting to Devise Support for Families of Prisoners.

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 6.—Alarmed at the rigid enforcement of the prohibition law here, a mass meeting of Kansas City bootleggers to the establishment of a fund to information received by Sergeant J. A. Vincent, of the police raiding squad, to make a combination to protect the illicit liquor industry.

In addition to discussing ways and means of evading punishment, it is said, they gave consideration to the establishment of a fund to insure those who receive sentences to jail and the rock pile.

It was pointed out at the meeting that many a bootlegger's family was left destitute for periods of from 60 to 90 days when a still was raided. According to Sergeant Vincent, the matter was taken under advisement and a committee appointed to discuss such an "insurance plan."

POLICE PISTOL EXPERT REGAINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Patrolman Frank W. Evans Never Fired a Revolver Before 1917.

The best marksman in the Police Department is Patrolman Frank W. Evans of the Carr Street District. After winning the annual revolver tournament in 1923 and 1924, he lost out in 1925, but this year he came back as champion.

There were 1500 policemen in the tournament at the start, but only 54 experts remained for the finals, which were held March 30-31 at the Laclede Avenue Police Station. The finalists took 20 shots at two stationary targets and 10 shots at a moving target, all targets being 36 feet distant. Evans won with what Lieut. Bosch, in charge of the contest, calls the "remarkable score" of 279 out of a maximum of 300 points.

Sergeant Michael T. Stanton of Central District was second with 270 points, and Patrolman John P. Criswell of Deer Street District was third with 267. Among the 10 next, Lieut. Bosch was fourth with 265. Evans, Stanton and Criswell will receive gold, silver and bronze medals, respectively, from the Board of Police Commissioners.

Of all who competed, 6 per cent qualified as experts, 18.3 per cent as marksmen and 76.5 as first-class shots. Thirty per cent of the latter failed to qualify the first time, but were allowed to shoot until they did qualify.

Evans is 35 years old and resides with his wife and two children at 4411 Hunt avenue. He was a laborer before joining the police force in 1917.

"I never shot a revolver before I became a policeman," he said today. "Once on the force, I took advantage of all the practice and lessons I could get. When I went to visit relatives in the country, I used to take my revolver along and practice. The secret of marksmanship is in not firing promiscuously, but in shooting once and then inspecting the target to find out why you hit or missed."

CHARLES GARLAND INDICTED OVER BABY AT FARM COLONY

By the Associated Press.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., April 6.—Charles Garland, former Massachusetts millionaire, has been indicted on a charge of adultery in connection with his farm colony.

He was accused of being the father of a child born to Bettina Hovey, member of the colony. The child died last October, a few months after birth.

The April farm colony attracted attention early this year when Attorney Robert L. Scott, acting as a master, filed a report with the colony's application for a charter be refused on the ground that some of the views of the petitioners with regard to marriage were "detrimental to the public welfare." Subsequently it was learned that most of the men and women who had taken up their residence at the farm had left and for a time Garland and Paul Scott were the only members remaining.

mander Richard E. Byrd's Arctic expedition.

The Shipping Board steamer
Chantier, which is to carry Commander Byrd and his 54 companions as far as King's Bay, Spitzbergen, left her pier an hour after schedule time, decks and hold a sorry litter of unsecured cargo.
She anchored off Staten Island, to stay overnight to give the crew a chance to finish stowing and make things shipshape.

The accident which marred the get-away occurred in the last minute haste of transferring two airplanes from the pier to the Chantier's hold. A heavy piece of ironing, 10 feet long, a part of the skeleton packing case surrounding the trailing edge, or rear section of the airplane wing, came loose as a boom dangled the case above the hold.

It fell with a resounding crash, just missing three men who were superintending operations at the bottom of the hold and narrowly falling to hit the vulnerable wood veneer main wing, already lying along the vessel's keel.

300 Bid Expedition Farewell.
Vincent Astor's yacht, the Nourmah, crossed the river from East Twenty-fifth street with a group of the Byrd expedition's sponsors and their guests, to give the Chantier her send-off. It afterward accompanied the steamer down the river and took off newspaper photographers and others who had remained aboard after the gangplank was removed.

Despite the fact that the venture is backed by a group of notables, including Edsel Ford, John D.
Rockefeller Jr., Vincent Astor and Dwight W. Morrow, and that most of these sponsors, except Ford and Astor, were on hand, the Chantier had a rather unostentatious farewell. Scarcely 300 persons, including the navy yard band and enlisted men assigned to assist in the final taking aboard of supplies, witnessed the departure.

A score of special guests were entertained at a farewell luncheon on board Astor's yacht. Death of a relative prevented Astor's presence and Rockefeller acted as toastmaster. As one of the expedi-tion's chief backers, he made a brief speech wishing Commander Byrd's venture success and declaring that if it resulted in the opening of regular trans-Polar flights between the Old World and the New, the expedition would have gone far toward promoting world peace.

Flight Personnel.
Commander Byrd's flight personnel consists of Floyd O. Bennett of the navy, pilot and second in command; Lieut. George O. Be-ville, flight engineer; Lieut. Robt.
C. Orrell, Lieut. Alton N. Parker, second pilot; William C. Haynes, meteorologist; and Thomas H. Kinkade, Wright Field service engineer in charge of the three 20-horsepower, air-cooled motors that drive the Fokker monoplane. Capt.
Michael Brenna is skipper of the Chantier.

The expedition will pick up an ice pilot in Norway to steer it to King's Bay. There the airplane will be assembled and tested, after which the larger one will be flown to Cape Morris Jessup, Peary Land, on the northernmost tip of Greenland, establishing a base—by several round trips from Spitzbergen—for subsequent flights to the Pole and in various directions over the Polar basin.

Fined for Driving Too Slow.
Edwin Stander, 3957 Easton avenue, a taxicab chauffeur, was fined $5 and costs by Police Judge Beck.

CHILDREN STAY FIT RIGHT ALONG

Children love New Oats even better than oatmeal

New Oats is the new discovery of the Kellogg Company. In their wonderful kitchen they have succeeded in blending oats and wheat to form a marvelous new hot cereal. New Oats combines the goodness of both oats and wheat. It is just the dish that women have been asking for. The first real improvement on oats in fifty years. It has a flavor that wins instant praise from young and old. And its matchless qualities as body-builder helps keep all who eat it fit and eager for the hardest day's work. New Oats is a splendid food for children. A hot cereal they will like even better than oatmeal.

New Oats comes to you ready cooked, so that you get every bit of that wonderful flavor. Just heat it three minutes in boiling water before serving.
New Oats never gets the soggy, mushy texture of ordinary oatmeal. It is always light, melting, delicious. All grocers sell New Oats. Try a package

CHAPMAN A CRIMINAL FROM HIS BOYHOOD

Murder of Policeman Occurred While He Was Fugitive From Atlanta Prison.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 4.—Gerald Chapman was born George Chapman, the son of Irish parents who died when he was a boy. Under that name in 1907 he was convicted in New York of petty larceny and was sent to Elmira reformatory. From that time he spent more than one-third of his life behind prison walls.

Released from Elmira in 1909, he was sentenced the following year to Auburn prison for two years for theft. In 1912 he went to Sing Sing prison to serve 10 years for grand larceny, but obtained a parole in 1913. He then joined the "Dutch" Anderson with George, N. Y., who became his partner in crime.

$1,000,000 Mail Robbery.
After illicit liquor ventures in the West, the two, together with Charles Loerber, held up a New York postoffice truck laden with registered mail, while it was en route from a downtown substation to the general postoffice. The loot totaled $1,454,129 in cash and securities.

Chapman and Anderson were arrested on July 1, 1922, in Chapman's studio-apartment in fashionable Gramercy Park, in New York. On the testimony of Loerber, who was arrested and turned State's evidence, the two were sentenced to 25 years each in Atlanta.

During the trial Chapman made one break for liberty, but was captured on a narrow ledge of a building high above Broadway. He made two escapes from Atlanta, and it was while at liberty after the latter break that he was charged with having killed Patrolman James Skelly, during a store robbery in New Britain.

His first escape from Atlanta was on March 27, 1923, when he and Frank Gray, a forger, eluded the guards. Two days later they were surrounded about 50 miles away. In the fight which followed Chapman was shot three times. He was taken to St. Mary's Hospital at Athens, Ga., but escaped within a month.

Accomplice Confessed.
The New Britain policeman was killed Oct. 10, 1924. The policemen had surprised two safe blowers at work. One of them shot his way to liberty, killing Skelly, and the other, Walter E. Shean, son of a Springfield, Mass., hotel man, was captured. Shean confessed that Chapman was his accomplice.

Chapman was arrested in Munster, Ind., and returned to Atlanta. The State of Connecticut, however, extradited him to stand trial for Skelly's murder.

Meanwhile, late in 1925, Chapman's pal, Anderson, had killed Ben Hance and his wife, on whose farm near Muncie Chapman and Anderson once lived, presumably because Hance had testified against Chapman in his murder trial. Anderson himself was killed a few weeks later by a Muskegon, Mich., policeman.

Postmaster-General New brought an action against Chapman in the name of the Government and obtained on Jan. 7, 1926, from Judge Thomas a judgment of $1,000,000 representing the amount of uncovered securities from the mail theft.

WEALTHY WOMAN RECLUSE,

83, STRANGLED TO DEATH

Killed Unknowingly Sleeps in Room Where California Victim Lay.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Sound heart and food and strangled to death, the body of Mrs. E. L. Phinney, 83-year-old, wealthy recluse, was found stuffed under a bed in her cottage in the cheap East Side district here today. Police had searched for the woman since she was reported missing early Saturday.

A niece of the dead woman had occupied the cottage since Saturday night, unknowingly sleeping on the bed beneath which lay her murdered aunt.

What happened to Mrs. Mills

Indication—terrible gas pains—intended to regularly—billion attacks and physical exhaustion. All these were the terrible lot of Mrs. C. E. Mills of Worcester, Mass., until she took up internal medicine with the J. B. L. Company.

A state of physical misery sufficient to break the will of the most vigorous.

A year later Mrs. Mills reported: "I haven't been over a doctor for over a year. I have no more gas pains and have not had a headache since taking the J. B. L. Company's medicine."

This is but one illustration of the health work done by this medicine. Legions of people are suffering from gas, indigestion, and other ailments brought by the J. B. L. Company. Of health regained—many have written. "I have been a sufferer from gas and indigestion for many years. I have tried many ways of obtaining relief and have never found a better one than the J. B. L. Company's medicine. It is a great relief to me. Get it for health's sake. Write: Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores."

EIGHTY MILES PER HOUR

CHRYSLER
IMPERIAL*"80"*THE VERY FINEST

FROM now on, thoughts of the very finest in fine motoring will invariably summon up thoughts of the Chrysler Imperial "80". It is inevitable. For here is the different thing you have been asked so many times to expect—and so many times have failed to find. Here is that full, free, fresh kind of performance, of luxury, of swiftness and facility. It is new, and it is different, because Chrysler genius visioned for the finest of fine cars, possibilities never before realized; because Chrysler engineering, delving deep in scientific fact and soaring high in imagination, has gone far beyond current development to unprecedented achievement. The result is not alone 92 horse-power and 80 miles an hour, and unsurpassed luxury of performance, but a car as fine as money can build, with everything in long life that is vouched for by Chrysler quality.

POLICE CIRCUS OPENS FOR TWO WEEKS' RUN

Opening Matinee and Evening Performances at Coliseum Well Attended.

The seventh annual Police Circus for the benefit of the St. Louis Police Relief Association opened yesterday at the Coliseum with afternoon and evening performances. It will continue two weeks, twice daily, with the last performance on April 18.

In spite of inclement weather, there were about 3000 persons at each performance yesterday. The matinee was largely attended by children, who were delighted with the ponies and the circus and the odor of tanbark and were not aware of the many delays and errors incident to a first performance.

Professional Performance. About 500 inmates of various charitable institutions, particularly orphans' homes, were in special sections, having been transported to the Coliseum in donated automobiles, buses and street cars. This afternoon about 200 disabled war veterans from the Veterans' Bureau Hospital and several more contingents of orphans will be guests of the relief association.

Sixty professional circus acts, presented in three rings, make up the Police Circus. The only amateur event is the appearance of the St. Louis Police Band, which led the grand entry. The rest of the show is pure circus, under the direction of a professional circus man, with 36 clowns, much plain and fancy horse riding, acrobats, elephants, the inevitable "Bucking tin Lizzie," and three unruly mules.

Slide for Life. Rebra's loop-the-loop in the air on a bicycle and Robinson's military elephants won the greatest applause. Other star acts include Darling's dog and pony circus, Harry Post's tight wire slide-for-life, and the Usarda tribe of riding Indians. A thrilling game of auto polo ended the performance.

The policemen who comprise the executive board of the Relief Association have endeavored to supply as much material for the circus as possible from St. Louis sources. As in the past, general admission to the circus is 50 cents, with a 25-cent surcharge for reserved seats and a 50-cent surcharge for box seats. The net proceeds will be placed in the general fund of the Relief Association.

HOOVER DESCRIBES CHAOS IN RADIO FIELD IF LAW FAILS

Rush for Favored Wave Lengths Waits on Court Decision: 500 Applications on File.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Continued operation of the radio broadcasting machinery on the North American continent depends on the outcome of the suit to test the power of the Commerce Department to regulate the industry, Secretary Hoover said today.

If the suit filed by the Zenith Radio Corporation in Chicago is decided against the Government, the Secretary said, the voluntary plan governing assignments of wave lengths for various stations would be killed and five or six hundred million dollars worth of receiving sets would be useless to the thousands of families now enjoying this field of amusement.

Complete chaos also would result, he added, if the Senate failed to pass the White and Dill radio bills which would give the Commerce Department authority to govern the radio world.

Hoover declared the radio act of 1912 had been construed to give the Department such authority and that if the courts ruled otherwise there would be a rush to favored wave lengths and a consequent whup in the whole broadcasting field. There are now more than 500 applications on file by stations who desire wave lengths.

LIPTON'S PLANS FOR NEW CUP CHALLENGER

Yacht Will Be Designed by Scotch Boat Builder—Race Next Summer.

By JAMES ROBBINS.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
NEW YORK, April 6.—Sir Thomas Johnstone Lipton arrived on the Leviathan yesterday bent on making a fifth attempt to capture the historic America's cup, that international yachting trophy he so long has coveted.

He came from Southampton where his yachting days have been spent since his four-leaved Shamrock almost captured the famed trophy and then curled up in the wake of the fleet Resolute.

After remarking that his visit here was for the purpose of "taking a look around," he admitted that ere next October comes he would do, as he said, "his duty" and send another challenge to the New York Yacht Club. It will be for a race in the summer of next year.

Shamrock V will be another cutter of about 75-foot water-line length. She will be designed by William Fife, the Scotch boat wizard, who turned out Shamrock I and III. Her skipper will be Capt. Edward Sycamore, who sailed Shamrock II. Thus she will represent a combination of the skill behind his first three tries for the cup.

The challenge will come from the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, which sent the others, and Sir Thomas will express a wish for the series to be held off Sandy Hook again. Instead of off Newport, which some of the New York Yacht Club members would have.

Ten Months Notice.
Under the deed of gift of the cup, 10 months notice of challenge must be given. Sir Thomas' nomination of one by October would indicate races in July, 1927. He would have until Dec. 1, however, should he decide to go back to a hope of September breezes.

His sticking to a cutter, or single masted vessel, eliminates suggestion of a return to schooner racing. The deed stipulates that a single-masted vessel shall not be less than 45 feet on the load waterline, nor more than 80 feet. That is, rigged and with crew aboard. With a small centerboard, which both Resolute and Shamrock IV had and which the challenger probably will have, she technically will be a sloop. A waterline of 75 feet would make her the same length of the last challenger in that respect. That would mean an overall length on deck of 106 to 110 feet. While not the smallest also that it could be built under the deed, it is considered the minimum to give seaworthiness under the maximum sail bound to be spread.

Captain's Professional.
Fife, selected as the designer, always has felt he could build a winner under the rule for wholesome bodied boats that was adopted after the Reliance-Shamrock III races in 1902. These craft were huge skimming dishes. Also, it was no secret that Fife was chagrined when Charles E. Nicholson was chosen to design the last Shamrock, since the Shamrock III contest Fife has refused to build franks even in small boats. He is famed more for weather craft than for light breeze ones, which have had the favor of the elements in most of the races held.

In deciding upon Capt. Sycamore, Sir Thomas has gone back to the professional instead of amateur skipper. Capt. Sycamore handled Shamrock II, which was designed by the late George L. Watson, and which many considered was faster than the Columbia, the sinking defender. It was the late Capt. Charles Barr's successful wind-hunting expedition with the Columbia under Atlantic Highlands that brought her home. Also a victor in the final race that year.

In recent summers Capt. Sycamore has sailed Sir Thomas' 33-meter Shamrock against King George's Britannia and other yachts off Cowes.

Challenge Madden's Right to Vote.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 6.—Suspect notices, two of thousands sent to Chicagoans challenging their right to vote in the April primary, have been mailed to Congressman Martin B. Madden and his secretary, George Nettlesworth, both of whom are in Washington. The notices call upon the recipients to appear and prove their right to cast a ballot.

HAWES' SECRETARY MAY SEEK HIS POST

John J. Cochran Indorsed for Congress by Eleventh District Committee.

John J. Cochran, who for several years has been secretary to Congressman Harry B. Hawes of the Eleventh Congressional District, was put forward today as a candidate for the Democratic nomination from that district to succeed Hawes, who is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

Support of Cochran was voted by the Democratic Committee for the Eleventh District, at a meeting in the Tower Building, headquarters of the Democratic City Central Committee. In announcing the decision, State Senator Joseph Brogan said several persons, including himself, had been considered as candidates before the committee was informed Cochran might agree to run for Congress. It was then decided to support Cochran.

Cochran himself has made no statement of his intentions. Brogan said, but the committee feels he will accept the opportunity.

For 16 years Cochran has been active in congressional circles, first as secretary to Senator Stone, later in the same capacity with Representative Igou, and now with Hawes. He is 44 years old.

FRUIT GROWERS OF COUNTY IN CO-OPERATIVE CONCERN

Organization With $25,000 Capital Files Application at Clayton for Incorporation.

The first step, in what is said by organizers to be the first co-operative marketing venture of fruit and vegetable growers in Missouri, was taken yesterday with the filing at Clayton of an application for incorporation of the St. Louis County Growers' Co-Operative Sales Co.

The application provides for a capital stock of $25,000. The organization was represented as having 140 members, each of whom had agreed to take one share of stock at $100, and its regulations provide that no one member may own more than 10 per cent of the capital stock.

Only 43 cents of the consumer's dollar goes to the farmer under the present system of selling to commission merchants, the organizers quote from statistics, and one object of the organization is to increase the members' share of the money derived from the sale of their products. Another object is to "correct the evil practices at commission markets which have developed because of lack of competent supervision." It also is pointed out that such an organization will aid in establishing standard grading and packing of products, assuring the purchaser that they are as represented.

Business of the company will be conducted at Clayton. A board of seven directors is named to control the affairs of the organization. They are: August E. Hill, E. J. Bayer, George H. Schmalz, George W. Gruening, Jesse Venarde and George D. Jacobsmeier.

THERE is now a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that a differently from ordinary pastes and dentifrices. A way that clouds teeth to sparkling whiteness that firms gums to a healthy tint.

Modern dental science has made important new discoveries. It's proved teeth are seldom naturally "off color." Simply clouded by old-time dentifrices did not clear off.

Let us send you a full 10-day tube by clearing your teeth of that you may change your whole appearance.

What film is—dulls teeth invites gum disorders

Dental science now traces scores and gum troubles to a germ-laden film on your teeth. Run your tongue across your teeth and you will find a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discoloring food, smoking, etc. It makes "off color."

That film clings to teeth, gets into spaces and stays. It lays your gum tissue open to bacterial attack. Germs by the millions.

Accept full 10-day tube of this new way that leading dental authorities urge. Your teeth are not naturally dull... simply clouded by a dingy film coat now easily cleared off.

THERE is now a new way in tooth and gum care. A way that acts differently from ordinary pastes and dentifrices. A way that clears cloudy teeth to sparkling whiteness; that firms gums to a healthy coral tint.

Modern dental science has made important new discoveries. It's been proved teeth are seldom naturally "off color." Simply clouded by a film that old-time dentifrices did not successfully clear off.

Let us send you a full 10-day tube to try. By clearing your teeth of that film coat, you may change your whole appearance.

What film is—dulls teeth, invites gum disorders

Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles to a germ-laden film that forms on your teeth. Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it—a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. It makes teeth look "off color."

That film clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and decay.

Old ways won't clear it off

Ordinary dentifrices and cleansing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its duty.

Now new methods are being used. A dentifrice called Pepsodent—different in formula, action and effect from any other known.

Largely on dental advice the world has turned to this method.

74 PCT. INCREASE HERE IN ALCOHOLIC CASES

No Such Thing as Prohibition in St. Louis, Health Commissioner Says.

A study of alcoholic cases at the city hospital, showing a 74 per cent increase in the number of such cases under prohibition, was prepared by Health Commissioner Starkloff yesterday and sent to Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, who is actively seeking revision of the Volstead act. Senator Edge requested the information after the Senate Prohibition Committee refused to subpoena Dr. Starkloff and 17 other witnesses whom the wets desired to examine.

The figures show that $181 alcoholic cases were treated at the city hospital in the six-year period, 1914 to 1920, against 14,254 in the period, 1920 to 1926, an increase of 6078. The Health Commissioner Starkloff asserted he observed abnormal increases in crime, venereal disease, and the illicit manufacture of liquor, since prohibition.

Opinion of Prohibition Here.
"My personal opinion is that there is no such thing as prohibition in St. Louis," he said, "that is, if one wants liquor, and has the price, it can be obtained."

The figures on alcoholic cases treated at the city hospital follow:

Year ending	No. of Cases
April, 1916	1693
April, 1918	1572
April, 1917	1856
April, 1918	1179
April, 1919	1424
April, 1920	657
April, 1921	1889
April, 1922	3198
April, 1923	3263
April, 1924	2404
April, 1925	1831
April, 1926	1599

Total 14,254

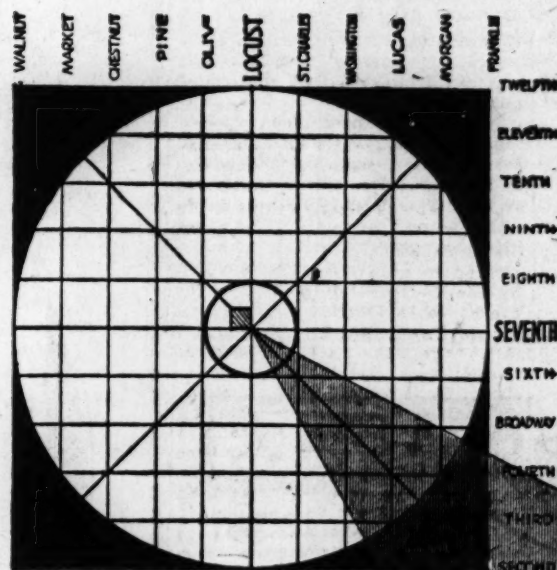

History of the Patients.
"The history of the patients in the last six years," commented Dr. Starkloff, "shows that such patients are more completely comatose than those received before prohibition went into effect. It also is noted that a larger number come to the hospital with injuries about the face and head, due to having fallen helplessly."

The figures on alcoholic cases are supplemented by figures from the Municipal Venereal Clinic which show 29,180 cases in 1919 against 124,720 in 1925.

Army Officer Tried for Burglary.
By the Associated Press.

SALINAS, Cal., April 6.—First Lieut. Clarence Kennedy Alkin, U. S. A., is on trial in civil court here on a charge of burglary. Alkin and Sergt. Charles B. Barnes, are accused of attempting to rifle the offices of the Monterey Theater Co. at Monterey the night of Jan. 3. Police said Barnes had turned state's evidence. The officer enlisted 13 years ago and is attached to Troop G, Eleventh Cavalry, stationed at the historic presidio of Monterey. His parents live at Stockton, Ala.

CONQUER CONSTIPATION EASILY

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN relieves constipation because it is 100% BRAN

Mr. McEnery tried part-bran substitutes—but only ALL-BRAN brought complete relief. Here's what he says:

"For fifteen years I was constantly bothered with constipation. . . . About two years ago I tried out mixed bran and corn flakes but did not get much relief. Some eighteen months ago, I began using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. From the first week to this good day, I have never had to take a dose of any laxative medicine of any description."

JAMES D. McENERY,

R. F. D. No. 4, Alta, Texas.

Constipation is the enemy of health. The cause of more than forty diseases. Don't let this insidious trouble send its poisons through your body. Pimples, spots before the eyes, indigestion and headaches—are warning signs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation or your money is refunded. Delicious with milk, fruit or with other cereals. Fine in cooking.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere.

MAN DIES AFTER BEING FOUND IN POOL OF WATER IN STREET

Henry J. Evers Said to Have Suffered From Alcoholism; Identified by Wife.

Henry J. Evers, 45 years old, who roomed at 1904 Coleman street, died at City Hospital last night, three hours after he had been found unconscious in a pool of water near a sewer inlet at Eighth and Biddle streets. Doctors at the hospital said he had suffered from exposure and alcoholism.

Evers was unconscious when found by Policeman Latham. A card in his pockets led the police to his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Evers, at 2122 East Prairie avenue, from whom he was separated. She identified her husband and said he recently had been released from the workhouse, where he had been sentenced for nonsupport.

SYMPHONY CANVASS FOR FUNDS BEGUN

Frank P. Glass and C. G.
Rathman at Dinner Cite Benefits of Orchestra.

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra is not for a few hundred persons to finance, but for the public at large, according to Frank P. Glass, principal speaker at a dinner of the Symphony Orchestra Guarantee Fund, Hotel Chase, last evening. Every citizen of St. Louis, Glass said, has incalculable responsibility to see that the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra grows better each year. Particularly should the business firms, such as the Chamber of Commerce and bankers' organizations, aid in the financing, he declared.

"St. Louis is the music center of this part of the country," said Glass. "It is the teacher at large in matters of music. And it cannot step down now from this high plane. The business man must see its advertising value as it travels throughout the country giving everywhere new ideas of St. Louis as the criterion of all things that make a city noble and useful. The business man should see in its maintenance greater strength for our future. This is a selfish viewpoint, but we must look to the city's interest. If we cannot get the public co-operation in any other manner."

Praises Children's Concerts.
C. A. Rathman, assistant superintendent of instruction of the Board of Education, another speaker, expressed appreciation from that body for the children's concerts.

"In all my 34 years of experience with school children, I have seen nothing more inspiring to children than the children's concerts of the symphony," declared Rathman. "Music has a place in the curriculum second to none. Education is more than mere learning of text books now. Our schools aim to awaken in children the desire for better things in life, and they use every opportunity to make vivid and lasting impressions of the best things which the children will take with them always. The botanical and zoological gardens are visited now, and the Public Library. We have gotten away from the idea that all learning is achieved in the school room. We want to give more than the school room can give, and we want that to be given by the best interpreters of that particular thing. Hence, music should be learned from the symphony orchestra."

J. Leiberger Davis presided and the Rev. Ivan Lee Holt gave the invocation. Miss Annie Punahon, contralto, sang. The meeting was then turned over to Oliver P. Richards, vice president of the Symphony Society, who called for reports from each of the 20 women chairmen as to the success of their advance soliciting.

Report on Subscriptions.
The total amount received to date, as announced last night, was $22,615 for one year, or $66,034 for three years. Of this amount, $39,000 or $10,000 yearly, was contributed by Mrs. John Fowler, who expressed her gift as being in memoriam to her husband, who was president of the Symphony Society until his death. Mrs. Oscar Johnson gave $6000 of this amount for the three years. Other amounts for the three-year term ranged from $4500 on down.

Canvassing in earnest began this morning and will continue all this week.

TO SEGREGATE DELINQUENTS

Circuit Judges Order Cells Installed in House of Detention.

The Circuit Judges, meeting in general term yesterday, authorized Judge Hartmann, in charge of the Juvenile Court, to have two cells installed in the house of detention to segregate the older delinquents from the younger ones confined there. Each cell will accommodate 10 prisoners. One will be used for Negroes and one for white boys.

It is believed the cells will prevent inmates from escaping. As an additional safeguard, an alarm system connected with Police Headquarters will be installed.

ADVERTISING Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allensol, to others, who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging, he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Walter Wilson, of 7th and Washington sts., and Grand and Olive sts., and drugists everywhere to dispense Allensol with the understanding that if his prescription does not banish every sign and symptom of the disease, he will gladly return your money without comment.

New Ice Treatment A Real Beautifier

Every Beauty Doctor knows the value of ice treatments for the complexion. But recently an English Beauty Specialist found that even better results could be obtained by simply rubbing the face, neck and hands with a little ordinary ice-cream either just before retiring at night or whenever one desires to look their best.

The reaction of the ice-mint on the skin not only brings the color to the cheeks but also holds the color there longer and makes the skin soft, firm and more youthful in appearance. Wrinkles will soon be a thing of the past to the woman who cares for her skin. Many have already made themselves look years younger by these simple ice-mint treatments and Druggists say they are having an enormous demand for it as the cost is little and it is positively a delight to any woman who loves a good complexion and nice hands and skin.

AUTO LICENSE DELINQUENTS PAY $3 TO $13 IN COURT

Judge Beck Collects $10 Fines and Costs, While Rosecan Stay Fines.

Police courts were crowded today with motorists arrested yesterday for failure to have 1926 city license plates. In both courts Judges announced that a fine of $10 and costs would be assessed on each plea of guilty, and Judge Rosecan added that he would stay the fine.

In Judge Rosecan's court, up to 11 a. m., 10 motorists had pleaded guilty and departed after paying $3 costs, while in Judge Beck's court 25 motorists who had pleaded guilty were required to pay the full $13. In Judge Rosecan's court 34 license cases were on the docket and in Judge Beck's 62. The maximum penalty, seldom imposed, is $100.

Prosecuting Attorney Schweitzer today announced that police had applied for 613 warrants charging failure to have 1926 State license plates. It is expected that the warrants will be issued in the next few days. The State cases will be set in Judge Calvin Miller's division of the Court of Criminal Correction. The maximum penalty is six months in the workhouse.

CONFESSES 3 MORE BURGLARIES

Louis Glassman Added to Record While Out of Police Custody.

Louis Glassman, the boastful burglar, who confessed 187 burglaries before he escaped from police March 29, and who was recaptured yesterday morning, today confessed committing three burglaries during the few days he was at large. At the residence of Joseph Manning, 1480 Montrose avenue, he obtained $45; at the drug store of Max Mansfield, 2734 McNair avenue, $50 and stamps, and at the residence of Mrs. Gerald Holtzander, 4545 Wichita avenue, $65.

TWIN CITIES AGREE TO ST. LOUIS BARGE
SERVICE PROGRAM

Conference of Minneapolis and St. Paul Group With Secretary of War Davis Insures Sailings.

INSPECTION TRIP
TO BE MADE APRIL 19

Upper River Interests Claim Victory After $1,000,000 Appeal Got Little Encouragement.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Compromise agreement has been reached between representatives of Minneapolis and St. Paul business interests and the Inland Waterways Corporation for a successful, dependable and lasting barge line service on the Upper Mississippi River between St. Louis and the Twin Cities.

By careful avoidance of the $1,000,000 the upper river advocates wanted the Government to borrow or appropriate to supplement the $800,000 raised in Minneapolis and St. Paul, the two groups, after a conference yesterday with Secretary of War Dwight F. Davis, agreed to a building and service program that will insure sailings every six days from the Twin Cities to St. Louis and from St. Louis to the Twin Cities.

Under the agreement, the $800,000 raised by the Minnesota business men will be spent for three hundred-horsepower tow boats and 150 steel barges, with capacity of 550 tons each, at 4-foot draft. In addition to this fleet, the Inland Waterways Corporation will put the tow boat Scott on the upper river, and if necessary will transfer or construct at its own expense whatever barges are needed.

Test Trip on Towboat.

To test the practicability of the accepted design of the towboats and barges, Gen. T. Q. Ashburn, chairman and executive of the Inland Corporation, accompanied by engineers representing the Government corporation and the Upper Mississippi River Corporation, will make a round trip from St. Louis to Minneapolis and St. Paul on or about April 19 with a trial tow of the Scott and five barges loaded to four-foot draft. Gen. Ashburn said that he expected the new service to be in operation in the spring next year.

St. Louis will be the southern terminal of the new service. Cargo as the southern terminal has been completely discarded by the upper river interests. "We didn't take into account the feelings in St. Louis when we made our first proposal," one of the Minneapolis men said after the meeting with Secretary Davis.

The upper river interests claimed a victory in the negotiations. They had been given little encouragement by Secretary Davis and Gen. Ashburn for the $1,000,000 additional funds. Secretary Davis said that a traffic survey would be necessary before he would consider the advisability of making the money for additional equipment.

Considering the time usually needed for such a survey, it was estimated that no consideration would be given the proposal for at least a year.

Figure on 25 Barges. Under the new program, however, in addition to putting the Scott on the upper river service, the Inland Corporation has agreed to construct as many more barges as will be needed. The Twin Cities representatives figured that the Scott was worth $150,000 and that 25 barges—the number they feel will be necessary later—would cost at least $250,000. These two items would bring the Government's contribution to $400,000, an approximation of the amount they asked.

Those present at the conference besides Secretary Davis and Gen. Ashburn were W. W. Morse, A. C. Warner of Minneapolis, and R. P. Warner of St. Paul, representing the Upper Mississippi Barge Line Corporation, and Thomas R. Tarn and Irvin Cox, engineers.

"King of Lapland" Dies. STOCKHOLM, April 6.—Dr. Oskar Lundholm, popularly known as "King of Lapland," died Sunday. Lundholm, who founded the iron industry on the Lake Superior range, developed the remarkably successful Lapland iron ore fields. He was famed for his intense humanity and the care he devoted not only to creating model towns and conditions for his own workers, but also for improving the conditions of Laplanders generally. He was active in preserving every trace of Lapland's ancient culture and racial characteristics and every Laplander loved him.

trucks. Fisher hopes to make his island a distributing center for the entire Miami region.

Within the last year Coral Gables, George E. Merrick's development to the southwest of Miami, has grown from an ambitious project into a genuine suburb.

Even were the Coral Gables Corporation to cease, of which there seems no likelihood, the city of Coral Gables would remain. Approximately 2500 dwellings have already been completed or are under construction. Building permits for the first two weeks of this year totaled $4,000,000.

The Miami-Biltmore Hotel, with its country club and golf links, is standing, and a large coliseum is nearing completion.

A canal has been dredged from the Miami-Biltmore section to the bay, giving Coral Gables its much-determined "40 miles of water front." In fact, adding both sides of the canal, as is done in Florida, and both sides of lagoons which are to be dredged, to the seven miles of bay front, Coral Gables will have more than 40 miles of water front. Development work is being continued at Coral Gables during the dull spell.

Bid for Tourist Trade. Twenty miles north of Miami Joseph W. Young has built the city of Hollywood, having already a population of about 15,000. He has sold $125,000,000 worth of real estate in Hollywood. The third of this amount, for which he has already received cash, has paid for his development work so far as it has gone. With the opening of a $4,500,000 hotel this winter, Hollywood is making a more determined bid for the tourist trade. But it is by no means a city built for pleasure alone, for Young has under way a harbor development contemplating the expenditure of $15,000,000. He recently purchased $1,500,000 of dredging equipment.

Miami Shores, another large development, lying between Miami and Hollywood, is still in its infancy so far as building goes. But the purchase of $1,500,000 worth of its property on the real estate market by two syndicates in February was taken as an indication of strength.

Several Reorganizations. Another nationally-advertised development, near Miami, Pultord-by-the-Sea, has recently been reorganized, eliminating from active control its promoter, M. L. Tebetta. Pultord's sole connection with the sea is a small river.

Two or three developments brought to the verge of failure by irresponsible or too-ambitious expenditure have been re-organized under pressure.

It is generally believed, although denied by the supposed participants, that a large emergency fund, perhaps $100,000,000, has been created in Miami, to be advanced to developments threatened by the storm.

On the smaller outlying subdivisions the individual buyer is the victim. Some day, perhaps, before the pavement in front of his projected foretold has crumbled, Miami will come to him.

FULL HOUSE GIVEN OLD-TIME WALLOP BY BILLY SUNDAY

Moolah Temple Packed Before Dark and Hundreds Turned Away After Standing in Rain.

SERMON CRACKLES WITH EPIGRAMS

Approves Bobbed-Hair and Lipsticks, but Avoids Dry Issue—He May Return Here for Revival.

Enough persons to have filled the Coliseum tried to get into Moolah Temple last night to hear Billy Sunday's single St. Louis address. Sunday's hall was full before dark, and only ministers and other card-holders were admitted after 6:45 o'clock. Twenty-seven hundred persons were packed into the hall, while thousands went away, many after standing for some time in the rain. Some were turned back a block or more away by the streams of departing and disappointed people.

Though Sunday is working in minor league towns these days—like Cape Girardeau, whence he came here—his evangel carries its old-time wallop. He was dog-tired from his five weeks' campaign at the Cape; his voice, which is never more than just good enough, was about gone, and his baseball days are now 25 years behind him. He is in his sixty-third year.

But in his hour and a quarter on the platform he held the attention of the most indifferent auditor in the farthest row of gallery seats, and brought alternate peals of laughter and cries of "Amen" by his allusions and impersonations, delivered from side to side of the platform.

Less Inveective Than Usual. There was less invective than Sunday is wont to use—perhaps because he did not touch on the subject of prohibition. The only approaches to this favorite theme were a few allusions to "booze-hoisters" and bootleggers, and the story of the reform of a drunkard through conversion.

With his own appearance to make here, and with an audience largely made up of religious folk, Sunday did not ask anyone to "hit the trail." He preached on the reason for the Christian's hope, using, as it checked, the same text which he used in his last previous St. Louis address, made at Centenary Methodist Church four years ago last November. The text was, "Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you."

A compliment to the Masons, appropriate because of the meeting place, and an expressed hope that both St. Louis baseball teams might win pennants this year—Billy intimated that he would pray for such a result—served as his introduction. The sermon was of familiar pattern—a recital of the enjoyment and benefits conferred by wealth, fame, amusements and luxuries, learning and personal charm, then a portrayal of Christian faith as the only source of abiding satisfaction and immortal good.

That was the outline, for the analytically minded, but for most of his hearers, the address was just a string of breezy epigrams.

If Billy Sunday were to take the remarks which elicited most response from the audience were: "I wonder God Almighty don't stop making worlds long enough to knock the tar out of some people. If I were God for 15 minutes I'd soak some of them."

"If insanity keeps up its pace of increase, in proportion to population, in 210 years every man, woman and child in the United States will be bughouse."

"Can you satisfy yourself with worldly pleasure? You might as well try to cross the Atlantic Ocean on a grindstone towed by a cockroach."

"It's all right to dress well. I hate to see a man with a suit of clothes that looks like it was cut out by a cross-eyed tailor with a cross-cut saw. And, girls, if you think you'd look better with your hair bobbed, bob it. There's no moral question involved there, any more than there is in my shaving my face clean. Instead of growing lace curtains. If you want a lipstick, go to it. But hang up the fashion plates of any age, and I'll tell you the moral standards of that age."

No Avoidsups for God. "God can't be weighed in a pair of scales. Are you wrong, just because your baby can't understand you? Is God Almighty wrong because you're a nut?" "God saved me 30 years ago in Chicago, and I haven't been drunk

ELECTIONS IN 12 TOWNS

IN ST. LOUIS COUNTY TODAY Campaign in Fairview City Heated Over Question of Continuing Incorporation of Community.

Municipal elections, which have aroused but mild interest, are being held in twelve St. Louis County towns today, in five of which there is no opposition to the announced candidates. A light vote is expected.

The single issue which has resulted in a heated campaign is found in Fairview City, incorporated Dec. 8, 1923. The issue there is between those candidates running for offices they would seek to destroy if elected since they are against the incorporation of the community and the proponents of incorporation believing Fairview City should remain incorporated. The result will be in doubt until the last vote is counted.

In Clayton, Shrewsbury, Florissant, Oakland and Glendale there is no contest, while Webster Groves and Maplewood have no election at this time. In University City there is opposition for two offices, both memberships in the Board of Aldermen. In Richmond Heights James Jensen, mayor since 1912, opposes Edward Houlihan, and there are contests in two wards for the office of alderman. The elections in Brentwood, Ferguson and Valley Park are attracting slight interest since no vital issues are at stake.

BILLY SUNDAY MAY RETURN HERE FOR REVIVAL MEETINGS

Since I haven't gauged, I haven't got in a fight, though I've come pretty near it sometimes. I haven't kissed any Jane, and I've got the same wife I started with.

"Don't be afraid of enthusiasm. We can yell when our team scores a home run or a touchdown, but when the prodigal son makes a home run from the hogan to Heaven, some people want to put him in the refrigerator."

"Some Christians are only good to warm a little spot in a pew on Sunday, put a nickel in the plate, throw back their heads and sing. 'Jesus paid it all.' Then they'll go down to the theater and pay good money to see Gloria Swanson and Harold Lloyd and Ben Turpin. (Sunday gave facial imitations of these and other movie stars.)"

"Don't get the idea that, while you're not good enough to go to Heaven, you may not be bad enough to go to hell. God doesn't keep a half-way house for a bunch of roughnecks. It's Jesus Christ, or nothing for you."

Let's Learn About Heaven.
"Follow as you can, understand what you can. There's a lot of things I am waiting to find out about after I get to Heaven."

"You use sense about putting on your clothes. Use sense about your Bible. It's not a history textbook. These things were written that ye might believe and have life."

"Knowledge of God without education is better than education without knowledge of God. But there is no reason why you shouldn't have both. I'll not admit that any man that doesn't know about the way of salvation knows more than I do."

"God said to Noah, 'I'm going to turn the hose on that bunch,' and old Noah saved wood and drove nails for 120 years, without hearing a clap of thunder. But after the flood, Noah made some home brew. The old patriarchs made mistakes—sure they did. That's why the Savior was needed."

"There was Jacob—he made his mistakes, but I thank the Lord that he handed a hot poker to that old skinflint Laban. And Abraham—some people say he told a lie about his wife Sarah. No, he told a falsehood. A lie is a willful, malicious, told to deceive, to keep somebody, to siphon something out of somebody. A falsehood is withholding the truth from somebody that has no right to know."

"How Solomon ever got by, I can't figure out. He fell for every Jane that vamped him. He was a thirty-third degree sport and added some more degrees. But his golden chariot broke down, and he died. It's all vanity."

No Law Against Laughing.
"Where can you find any commandment in the Bible, 'Thou shalt not laugh'?"
"I ask no quarter from the devil's gang, in the church or out of it."

All the introductory speakers discussed the possibility that Sunday might be brought to St. Louis for an evangelistic campaign, perhaps after his next campaign in

UNITED STATES TIRES ARE GOOD TIRES

A New Kind of ADVERTISING

Questions and Answers on the American Rubber Supply and Automobile Tires

Tapping a Rubber Tree on a U. S. Rubber Company Plantation

THE U. S. RUBBER COMPANY NOW OWNS OVER 7,000,000 RUBBER TREES—MORE THAN 5,000,000 OF THEM ARE ALREADY PRODUCING RUBBER FOR U. S. TIRES.
AND 20,000 EMPLOYEES ARE ENGAGED IN CAR-ING FOR THEM.

Q—Where does America get its rubber?

A—The only important source of rubber for all the world is the rubber plantations in the Far Eastern possessions of Great Britain and Holland.

Q—Is America represented among the Far Eastern rubber planters?

A—Yes, the largest of all these Far Eastern plantations is owned and operated by the UNITED STATES RUBBER COMPANY.

Q—Do the United States Rubber Plantations produce any considerable quantity of rubber?

A—Yes, they produced 20,000,000 lbs. of rubber in 1925, and in the next few years the output will be increased about 75%.

Q—Then the growing of rubber by Americans for Americans is not a new thing?

A—No. As far back as 1903, the United States Rubber Company formed the conviction that it should own and operate rubber plantations in proportion to its requirements of crude rubber. In 1909, this Company acquired their vast tracts of ideal rubber growing land in Sumatra and Malaya. The jungle was cleared off. Docks, railroads, and motor roads were built, and fine young rubber seedlings were planted, cultivated and brought into bearing.

Q—How large are the U. S. Rubber Plantations today?

A—The United States Rubber Plantations now comprise about 136,000 acres, with over 7,000,000 rubber trees, sixty miles of narrow-gauge railway, and 200 miles of motor roads. They give employment to 20,000 people.

Q—What does all this mean to me as a buyer and user of United States Tires?

A—The United States Rubber Plantations and their results have brought many benefits to every user of U. S. Rubber products of all kinds. For instance:

1. LATEX-TREATED WEB CORD, one of the outstanding major improvements in tire-building, announced by this Company in 1922.

2. SPRAYED RUBBER, the new standard of purity in crude rubber, of direct benefit to every user of any U. S. Rubber product.

3. IN ADDITION, during the past 17 years, the U. S. Rubber Plantation Experts have conducted thousands of successful researches into improving rubber by improving the rubber trees. Their methods of selecting rubber seedlings, of grafting and budding, of preparing the soil, of planting, of fertilizing, cultivating and tending the trees have almost revolutionized rubber growing. The Company's plantation headquarters at Kisanan are recognized as the center of scientific rubber culture, and as such are visited by rubber planters from all over the East.

Q—What is Latex-treated Web Cord?

A—This is new cord structure for cord tires, combining maximum strength with maximum flexibility. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON LATEX-TREATED WEB CORD will be published shortly.

Q—What is Sprayed Rubber?

A—Sprayed Rubber is the new pure rubber. It is free from both acid and smoke. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON SPRAYED RUBBER will also be published at an early date.

Q—Will America ever be reasonably independent in its rubber supply?

A—Probably so, in the course of time. For instance, the U. S. Rubber Plantations will probably yield 15 per cent more rubber in 1926 than in the past year. Every year more rubber trees come into production; and as trees grow older, they yield more abundantly. It takes from 5 to 7 years from the clearing of the ground to bring a rubber plantation into bearing. For several years to come, the U. S. Rubber Plantations will be the only important American-owned source of rubber.

During 1926, the makers of United States Tires will publish what they hope will prove the most helpful series of advertisements on tires ever printed.

Conventional advertising forms and statements will be discarded. In their place direct questions such as any motorist might ask about United States Tires will be specifically answered.

They will be questions that have passed in and out of your mind, no doubt, ever since you have been a car owner.

No one will be able to read this series, either in whole or part, without knowing more about rubber and tires than he ever knew before. Do not miss reading the U. S. TIRE advertisements in newspapers and magazines from now on. They are for the benefit of every car owner, whether he rides on United States Tires or other makes.

REASSIGNMENT OF CIRCUIT JUDGES EFFECTIVE JULY 1

Judge Robert W. Hall to Succeed Judge Wilson A. Taylor as Presiding Judge.
The Circuit Judges yesterday in general session transferred Judge Robert W. Hall to the assignment court for six months, effective July 1, during which time he will be presiding Judge. The present incumbent is Judge Wilson A. Taylor, who was reassigned to Division No. 2.

Judge Ossing was transferred from No. 4, a civil division, to No. 10, a criminal division, to relieve Judge Mix, who returns to a civil division, No. 9. Judge Hogan also goes from a civil division to a criminal division, taking Judge Frey's place in No. 12. Judge Frey was reassigned to No. 4 at the Courthouse.

Other reassignments were Judge Franklin Miller to No. 6 and Judge Hamilton to No. 13, both civil divisions. All the changes will be effective July 1.

Vacation Judges were assigned as follows: For the Criminal Courts, Judge Landwehr in July.

Judge Itiner in August and Judge Frey in September; Domestic Relations Courts, Judge Ossing in July, Judge Percy in August and Judge

Hamilton in September. At the Courthouse, Judge Mix in July, Judge Calhoun in September.

A Modern Home Need Hot Water Service

Today's living standards demand self-supplying hot water service. No home is modern without it.

An Automatic Storage Gas Water Heater is one of the best investments you can make. It assures hot water at all times, ready at the turn of the faucet—hot water for the daily health bath, for sickroom emergencies—for house-cleaning, dish-washing, clothes-washing. And it means, aside from its untold comfort, a great saving in time and work.

You can now give your family this wonderful service. The Laclede Gas Light Company will arrange to install it in your home at a very reasonable cost.

The heater we offer is made especially for Laclede patrons, is of highest grade, with features of unequalled efficiency. Its price is remarkably low.

Thermostat Turns Heat On and Off

Once the heater is started you need give it no thought. The thermostat does the operating. It is controlled by the temperature of the water in the tank. When water chills, the thermostat turns on heat. When water is warm the thermostat turns off heat. It is adjustable to temperature desired. Heat is used only when needed. Operating costs are small. Of the finest material and workmanship, we guarantee this heater.

PROMOTER RICKARD'S APPLICATION FOR SIX DATES IS TABLED

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Applications for dates for six big boxing shows under his direction at the Yankee Stadium from June 10 to Sept. 15, filed today by T. Rickard, were tabled by the State Athletic Commission pending definite arrangement of bouts contemplated.

The application disclosed that Rickard has three dates in mind for his "big shot," generally supposed to be a heavyweight title match between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney. These dates are Aug. 12, Sept. 2 and Sept. 14.

The other dates sought by Rickard include June 10, when he plans to promote a return Benavidez-Delaney match for the light-heavyweight title, June 24, the date now figuring in negotiations for a Harry Wills-Jack Renault contest, and July 29.

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN CHESS TOURNAMENTS

DRESDEN, Germany, April 6.—Three of the five games in the second round of the international chess tournament were decided yesterday. Dr. Alekhine of France, Niemcewicz of Denmark, and Rubinstein of Poland, were again successful in overcoming their opponents today.

Summary:

Dr. Alekhine defeated Blumelch, Germany; Rubinstein defeated Holshausen, Germany; Niemcewicz defeated John, Switzerland. The games between Dr. Tazakower, Austria, and Saemisch, Germany, and between Steiner, Hungary, and Yates, England, were adjourned.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION FOR BILL BAILEY

HOUSTON, Tex., April 6.—Bill Bailey, veteran left-handed pitcher of the Omaha Western League club, is reported to be resting much better at a hospital here. He is suffering from a hemorrhage of the stomach caused by a ruptured artery.

Yesterday another transfusion of blood was made. Hospital attendants last night declared that Bailey had a chance for recovery.

Sansone Works Hard for Bout With Gallagher

Mike Will Get Return Match With Perfetti if He Wins.

Mike Sansone is training hard for his match with Frankie Gallagher, which is scheduled for next Monday night at Benid, Ill. John Battuello, who is promoting the Benid bout, has promised Mike another chance at Lew Perfetti, the sensational New Yorker, the latter having signified his willingness to meet the water.

Gallagher is said to have won victories over Henry Catena, Sammy Nobis, Tommy Powers and Harry London, and to have fought draws with Ray Moore, Danny Edwards and Frankie Coster, all of whom are well known in Eastern boxing circles. One of Gallagher's best fights was with Terry Martin, to whom he lost the decision in 12 rounds.

Has Won 6 "Pro" Bouts.

Since beginning his professional career, Sansone has attracted attention by his clean boxing and hard hitting. He won his first professional bout from Sammy Price and in the second was giving a good account of himself against "Buddy" Schlereth when he accidentally fouled his opponent and lost the bout. No criticism was directed against Mike as it was evident the occurrence was an unfortunate mishap. Sansone was then sent against "Chuck" Gary, and won. Two weeks later the St. Louis boxing fans saw one of the clearest and fastest boxers ever seen in St. Louis. Sansone encountered a storm of blows that night, but at the end was fighting hard and his gameness made a great "hit" with the crowd.

Sansone's last bout was with "Chuck" Gary at Benid, Ill., March 12, when he again defeated the Indiana boxer and installed himself as a favorite with the boxing fans of Southern Illinois. If he disposes of Gallagher next Monday night he will be a big drawing card in the proposed bout between him and Perfetti.

AMERICAN ESCAPES INJURY AS RIDERS JAM IN BIKE RACE

PARIS, April 6.—The annual six-day bicycle race is on. Fifteen teams got away shortly after 11 o'clock last night for the long grind. Reggie McNamara, the former Australian star, but now of Newark, N. J., and Harry Moran of the same city, comprise the American team and are among the favorites.

Thirty minutes after the race began there was a bad jam while Horan, Van Kempen and Goosen were sprinting for a prize offered by a spectator for the best time made in five laps. All three riders were thrown heavily to the track, and at first it was feared Horan had a broken collar bone. Later, however, he returned to the track and was recorded as having been slightly bruised.

Kling GARDINI MAT MATCH UNDER INVESTIGATION

Chicago City Council Starts Inquiry Into Wrestling, Following Charge of "Fake."

By Joe Foley,
Sports Editor Chicago Journal.
CHICAGO, April 6.—Renato Gardini, Italian heavyweight wrestler, meets Jim London here tonight, and if the match is not everything it should be Gardini faces suspension in Chicago and loss of his purse and forfeit.

The City Athletic Commission, aroused by the Italian's recent tactics, was loath to permit him to wrestle tonight. About a month ago he and George Calza were advertised for a finish match. After one fall Gardini refused to wrestle further. He lost that fall.

Immediately an investigation was demanded. Both London and Gardini have been forced to post heavy forfeits. It is actual money and is being held by the commission.

The Gardini-Zbyzko match was put on by a mysterious promoter. No one could be found who would admit it. Previously matches at the hall were conducted by a fellow who said his name was Nick London, and that he was from St. Louis.

The commission plans to adopt a rule making it compulsory for promoters to obtain licenses. The whole affair is believed to be an outgrowth of the friction between the Joe Stecher and Ed Lewis, rival wrestling factions.

St. Louis University Signs Mathews
Of Idaho as Director of Athletics

Successful Coach at Far West University Accepts Three-Year Contract Offered by Billikens.

R. L. Mathews has been signed by St. Louis University as full-time director of athletics. It was announced last night by President Cloud. Mathews, for four years head coach at the University of Idaho and regarded by many as one of the leading coaches in the country, has resigned at the Western institution and will assume his duties here in the fall. His contract is for three years.

Mathews comes to St. Louis recommended and the post which he assumes has just been created. Herebefore the athletic board and the coaches jointly have been responsible for the success or failure of the school's teams, but as athletic director, Mathews will be directly responsible to the president and the board.

He will be given more or less of a free hand as far as prosecuting the school's athletic policies is concerned. Probably he will coach football and basketball in today's exhibition game with the local club of the Southern Association.

R. L. MATHEWS.

The new gymnasium, which will be completed by fall, will give rise to the development of several sports new to the university, it is believed.

Mathews is a graduate of Notre Dame of the year 1913. He played both line and backfield positions on the varsity football squad. He succeeds Dan Savage here.

At Idaho Mathews has been noted for his fast, hard-playing teams and his forward-passing combinations. Out of the school's small enrollment he has evolved eleven touchdowns weaker than Stanford and Southern California. Prior to going to Idaho he coached several small colleges.

Mathews is a graduate of Notre Dame of the year 1913. He played both line and backfield positions on the varsity football squad. He succeeds Dan Savage here.

At Idaho Mathews has been noted for his fast, hard-playing teams and his forward-passing combinations. Out of the school's small enrollment he has evolved eleven touchdowns weaker than Stanford and Southern California. Prior to going to Idaho he coached several small colleges.

—Eddie O'Neill Scores a Point Victory.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BOSTON, April 6.—John Helstein, bantamweight, and Eddie O'Neill, flyweight, are the only survivors of a team of five boxers who arrived here yesterday to represent the Western A. A. U. in the national amateur boxing championship tournament. The others, Dave Knott, heavyweight; Dave Jackson, lightweight; and Eddie Burke, featherweight, met defeat in their first round bouts last night.

Helstein had the honor of scoring the first knockout of the tournament when he landed a terrific right hook to the jaw of John Allen of Grand Rapids in the very first round. O'Neill, boxing cleverly, won all the way from Joe Nathanson of Baltimore.

New Yorker Beats Burke.
Eddie Burke had the misfortune to draw the New York champion, Jack Donohue, in his first bout and the St. Louis lad went down under a storm of blows in the second round. Burke was not completely out but the bout was stopped. Dave Knott started too slowly in his bout with Anthony Myska of Grand Rapids and as a result, the Michigan boy carried off the point decision. (Knott fought furiously in the third round. Myska broke his hand in beating Knott and as a result will probably withdraw. Dave Jackson, the Little Rock

BOSTON, April 6.
L. MORGAN, New England amateur flyweight boxing champion, was rushed to city hospital early today when he was knocked unconscious by a mighty right-hand punch on the jaw by Hueria Evans, Los Angeles representative in the 112-pound class, at the national amateur boxing championships.

Twenty minutes after arrival Morgan was revived and was placed in the casualty ward, where he will remain for a few days.

Several hours before the crowd had been given a thrill by Evans when he went down for the count of seven, but got to his feet and won the decision over Anthony Nanci of Pittsburg.

SWIMMING RECORDS

Washington U. athletic authorities yesterday made official application to the Records Committee of the National Intercollegiate Swimming Association for official recognition of two marks set in the recent intercollegiate swim at Wilton Pool.

The standing record of 1:13 2-5 in the 100-yard breast stroke was lowered to 1:12 by Richard Peterson of Lindbloom High, Chicago, captain of the winning team in the annual tourney. The present recognized mark was set in the Phillips Academy Pool, Andover, Mass., Feb. 7, 1925, by Fletcher R. Nyce Jr.

Official recognition of the 1:31 1-10 mark set in the new event, the 250-yard medley relay, was also applied for. This fast time was also clipped off by the Lindbloom swimmers. There is no standing record for the event which calls for 50-yard distances by a backstroke, a butterfly, and a crawl swimmer, and one 100-yard free style swimmer.

YOU'VE known that Prince Albert is the finest tobacco that ever tumbled into a pipe, but did you ever try it in a home-rolled cigarette? Say, now! You've got a cigarette-experience coming. P. A. makes the kind of cigarette you can write home about, for a fact.

Just get yourself a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of P. A. today. Put a pinch in a paper and do your finger-exercise. Notice that it doesn't spill all over the place or blow away on the first breeze. That's because Prince Albert is crimp-cut and stays put.

A cigarette made with P. A. not only rolls easier—it burns better and, what is very important, it tastes better. Cool and sweet and fragrant. Doesn't burn the tongue or parch the throat. The Prince Albert process prevents that. Go ahead and roll 'em with P. A.!

Step around the corner today and get some P. A. Make some great cigarettes with it. And, to vary your smoke-menu, tamp a load of this wonderful tobacco into the bowl of your old jimmy-pipe. No matter how you smoke it, P. A. gives you the glad hand in every perfect puff.

PRINCE ALBERT

CASTANYS, OF CHICAGO, WIN AMERICAN BOWLING CONGRESS TITLE

VICTORS ROLL 3063 TO GAIN $1000 PRIZE

Successful Five Was "Dark Horse"; Two-Man Crown to Be Decided in Special Match Tonight.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
TOLEDO, O., April 6.—The Castany Five of Chicago are champions of the twenty-sixth annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress. Their score of 3063 stood the bombardment of the 56 teams in action last night and the A. B. C. team title goes to Chicago for the first time in six years. The Brucks, scoring 3096 at the Peoria show in 1920, a mark which stood as a record until lowered in 1923 by the Nelson Mitchells of Milwaukee, was the last Chicago outfit to win a title. Chicago bowlers, however, have won 13 titles or one-half of the annual meets conducted by the parent bowling organization.

Provided no other changes take place today first and second money in the two-man event will be decided at 9 o'clock tonight when Gardella and Tocco of Detroit with Aston and Young of Akron will roll off the tie made possible Sunday. Each pair has a score of 1255.

BATTERS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

In Eleven Practice Tilts Yesterday, 183 Safeties Were Made Early Superiority of the Pitchers Not in Evidence as Sluggers Tune Up.

By the Associated Press.
Many disheartening hours are just around the corner for big league hurlers unless the batting records made in the most recent exhibition games are only a "streak of luck."

A number of pitchers worked in vain yesterday and a few of them experienced their worst dream coming true, their offerings proving the very thing the batsmen desired. In eight of the ten exhibition hit-fests, a grand total of 183 safe blows were made, 112 going to the winners and 71 to the losers.

Wright of the Pittsburgh Pirates lammed out two homers to feature his club's one-sided victory over Indianapolis. Hot Springs, and the Detroit Tigers collected nine extra-base hits while defeating Atlanta at Atlanta, 15 to 1. Lazzeri and Gehrig of the New York Yankees each hit four-baggers in defeating Brooklyn at Knoxville.

Taylor and Welsh of the Boston Braves brought in three runs each by clearing the bases with hits against Jersey City.

Favorite won in most instances in the three interleague games. The Washington Senators, Philadelphia Athletics and Yankees, all junior circle flag contenders, emerged victorious. The Senators hammered two New York Giants hurlers for

Doctors Prescribed It Long Before the Public Knew It

LONG before the general public knew the virtues and effectiveness of Gude's Pepto-Mangan, it was prescribed by hundreds of physicians to patients in need of a good tonic. Since its introduction to the public, doctors still prescribe it. The fact that it has had the confidence of the medical profession for over 33 years is the best proof that it is a quick and efficient iron tonic.

But Gude's Pepto-Mangan is more than an ordinary iron tonic, for with the iron there is scientifically combined manganese and predigested albumin, the value of which is well known to physicians.

Read what doctors write—then you will have fullest confidence in the prompt and undoubted tonic power of Gude's Pepto-Mangan. At all druggists in either liquid or tablet form.

What Doctors Write

"I have been prescribing Gude's Pepto-Mangan for quite a number of years... I have always found it a valuable tonic and the extremely pleasant and reliable form in which Pepto-Mangan is prepared. Since its introduction to the public, it has rendered it invaluable to me in my practice."

"I have had results in simple Anemia with Pepto-Mangan and am recommending it to all my patients."

"I have used it for 15 years with always the uniform good results."

MISS WILLS FAILS TO ARRIVE AT PARIS FOR EASTER TOURNAMENT

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, April 6.—Helen Wills, America's woman tennis champion, disappointed yesterday to witness her scheduled exhibition in the Easter covered courts tournament of the Tennis Club of Paris.

Miss Wills was expected to play the last minute and Albert Canet, president of the French Tennis Federation, accompanied by the shining lights of French tennis, went to the Gare de Lyons to welcome her. A telegram was received, however, saying that the American champion had delayed her departure from Italy.

Miss Wills now is expected to play in Milan tomorrow and Wednesday, going later to the Lake Como region for a rest. She will not appear in competition in Paris until the hard courts championship beginning June 2, although she will begin playing practice matches as soon as she arrives here, about April 15.

Leadership and Growth

RECORD OF TOTAL ADVERTISING

New York Evening Newspapers

Nine Months Ending March 31, 1926

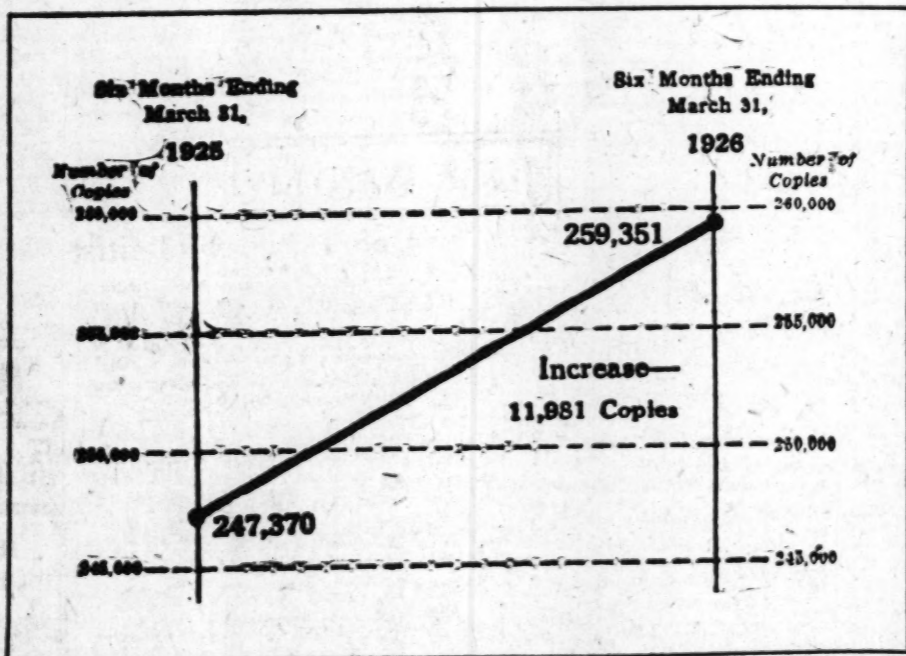

GROWTH IN CIRCULATION

The New York Sun

Six Months Ending March 31, 1926,

Compared with March 31, 1925

Chart based on Publishers' Circulation Statement to U. S. Govt.

AMONG those New Yorkers who constitute the best market for advertised products—the prosperous, intelligent, responsive New Yorkers—The Sun has a greater appeal than any other New York evening newspaper.

It is for this reason that manufacturers and merchants have found it so profitable to advertise their products in The Sun. It is for this reason that advertisers use more space in The Sun than in any other New York evening newspaper.

Leadership in Advertising

In March, for the ninth consecutive month, The Sun led all New York evening newspapers in total volume of advertising.

The Sun's gain in advertising in March, 1926 (compared with March, 1925), was 341,022 lines—a greater gain than that of any other New York newspaper, morning, evening or Sunday—a greater gain also than that of all other New York evening newspapers combined.

During the first quarter of 1926 advertisers placed 4,194,926 lines of total advertising in The Sun—which exceeded by 360,036 lines the volume of advertising placed in the second New York evening newspaper.

National Advertisers as well as Manhattan Department Stores have for years used more space in The Sun than in any other New York evening newspaper.

Growth in Circulation

The Sun's net paid daily, average circulation for the six months period ending March 31, 1926, was 259,351.

This represents an increase of 11,981 over the corresponding six months of 1925.

What is most significant about this circulation increase is that it is a natural, steady, sound increase, won purely on the merits of The Sun as a newspaper. It is in no way a forced increase. It was not secured through contests or prizes, or through any series of special articles or through any other similar form of promotion designed to swell circulation.

The Sun's circulation increase is the kind that is most valuable to advertisers, for it represents new readers who, like the older ones, believe in The Sun and have confidence in the advertisements as well as in the news it publishes.

A Very Rigid Censorship on All Advertising Is Maintained.

600 BOY SCOUTS PRESENTED WITH 1300 MERIT BADGES

Eagle Group Gives Candle and Stand to the Court of Honor. About six hundred St. Louis Boy Scouts were presented with 1300 merit badges at a Court of Honor held at the Soldan High School auditorium last night. These badges denote special achievement in various scout activities. Fifteen of the boys, by obtaining 21 specified badges, became Eagle Scouts, the highest rank in scouting. A number of others became Life or Star Scouts, in rank just below eagle.

The Eagle Scouts of St. Louis presented the court with a candle and stand symbolic of a scout's honor, which will be used in all future ceremonies of the court. Frank Hammar, recently elected chairman of the Court of Honor, presided for the first time last night, and, in his opening address, emphasized the value of scouting to boys. Rev. George A. Campbell, pastor of the Union Avenue Christian Church, gave the invocation.

DELIVERS SON, 15, TO POLICE AS BURGLAR

Lawrence Nicholas Demands That Older Man, Who Influenced Boy, Be Caught.

After his 15-year-old son had admitted to him that he had taken part in a burglary, Lawrence Nicholas of 9017 Newby place, last night took the lad to the Angelica Street Police Station and turned him over to the police.

"He has told me he robbed a house," the father, told Police Lieutenant Walsh. "I believe the case is a matter for the police rather than a parent and I want you to take charge of him. I am sure my son is under the domination of an older man than he and I want to see that man caught."
The burglary was at the residence of a friend and neighbor,
James Martin, 9019 Edna street.
Martin and his family went on a trip recently, after asking the Nicholas to look after the house in their absence. When they returned Sunday they found the house had been ransacked and seven shirts and an electric vi-brator were missing.

Yesterday Mrs. Nicholas questioned Lawrence Jr., 15, the eldest of eight children. He admitted that he and a 23-year-old man had committed the burglary. The mother conferred with the father
when he came home from work and they decided the police should be notified.

The vibrator was recovered in a barber shop, where the boy had sold it. The shirt were found at the home of the man, but the man himself was gone.

GOVERNMENT PHYSICIANS

EXAMINE J. W. THOMPSON
They Will Report Whether He Is Able to Make Trip to Chicago.

Two Government physicians today examined John W. Thompson, St. Louis contractor, at St. Luke's Hospital, to determine if his physical condition will permit his making a trip to Chicago to appear in Federal Court where his counsel is seeking probation for him under a two-year sentence to Leavenworth prison.

The doctors, Dr. George J. Epp of the local Veterans' Bureau, and Dr. William J. Gallagher of Jefferson Barracks, will submit a report to United States Attorney Curry who will forward it to Chicago.

Thompson was convicted with Col. Charles R. Forbes, now in prison, of defrauding the Government. Federal Judge Carpenter of Chicago suggested the physical examination of Thompson. His plea for probation is based mainly on ill health.

President Sustained in Operation

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 6.—By a decision of the Board of General Admirers trial court today, President Coolidge was sustained in the operation of what has become known as a flexible tariff. This has an important bearing on millions of dollars worth of imports, the tariff rate of which is under consideration for alteration. Judges Mc-Clelland and Sullivan rendered the opinion sustaining the President in the case of J. W. Hampton Jr. & rights of the President to increase the tariff on barium chloride coming into the United States from Germany.

Twin Hollows. A place restful and beautiful to the eye; a gentleman's home, with its larkspurs and sinias, its roses and its sun dial, its broad terrace, its great sheltered porch and its old paneling.

SYNOPSIS.
Prof. William A. Porter, university professor, inherits from his uncle, Horace, a country home called Twin Hollows.

In this house, where the uncle died mysteriously, many strange things have happened and the people of the community regard the house as being haunted.

Jane, Prof. Porter's wife, who seems to have a psychic tendency, has a great dread of the old house at Twin Hollows, where her husband and his niece, Clara, went to spend the summer.

Read the story as told in Prof. Porter's daily journal.

CHAPTER II

JUNE 11.
FRESH tonight rather like the man who had caught a bull by the tail and didn't let go. And yet I am certain there is a perfectly natural explanation. The difficulty is that I cannot very well go to Jane about it. It is what it appears to be, and not a double exposure, it will frighten her. If it is a double exposure, she will wonder at my inquiry, and think I am watching her. She has not, even today, quite forgotten the clock.

But certain things are very curious; she thought she saw Uncle Horace marching onto the field with his class. So much did this upset her that she stood up to take her picture, the camera shook in her hands. Then she takes the picture, and instead of the eight old men of the class of '70 there are nine.

And she knows it. Why else would she hide the print, and pretend that she had mislaid it? It was that fact which made me suspicious.

"I'll look them up for you later, William," she said. "You aren't in a hurry, are you?"

"In the bright lexicon of vacation there is no such word as hurry," I observed, brightly. And she who usually smiles at my feeblest effort turned abruptly away.

So Jane had lost her picture. Jane, whose closets are marvels of mathematical exactness, who keeps my clothing so exactly that I can find it in the dark, save for that one incident, duly noted in this Journal, when I unfolded a washcloth at the President's dinner, having taken it from my handkerchief box.

And shortly after Jane went out for a walk. Jane who never exercises save about her household. Poor Jane, I feel tonight, face to face with the inexplicable and hideous like one of the seven deadly sins.

There are nine men in the picture; there is no getting away from it. And there is no denying, either, a faint difference in the ninth figure, a sort of shadowiness, a lack of definition. Under Jane's reading glass it gains nothing. The features, owing to the distance, are indistinct, but if one could imagine the ghost of old Horace, in his broad-crowned dressing gown and slightly stooped to cough, in that bare of noise, shouting and sunshine, it is there.

Later: I have shown the picture to Lark, and he says it is undoubtedly a case of double exposure.

"What else could it be?" he said, with that peculiar intonation induced in some people by any suggestion of the supernatural.

"I don't think she ever took a picture of him in her life," he said, and handed the print back to me. "If you don't believe me, show it to Cameron. He's a shark on that sort of thing."

(Note: Cameron, Exchange Professor of Physics, at our University. A member of the Society for Physical Research and known, I understand, among the students as "Spooks" Cameron.)

But I have not shown it to Cameron, and I do not intend to. I hardly know the man, for one thing. And for another, Lark is right. The University looks with suspicion on the few among the faculty who have on occasion dabbled with such matters.

"Personally," he said, "I think it's a double exposure. But whether it is or not I'm damned certain of one thing, the less said about it the better."

JUNE 13.
Curious, when one begins to think on a subject, how it sometimes comes up in the most unexpected places.

I dropped into the dining room for tea this afternoon after Jane's bridge party, to find Jane looking uncomfortable and an animated conversation on spiritualism going on, with Helga Lark leading it.

"Ah!" she said when she saw me, "here comes our cynic. I suppose you don't believe in automatic writing either?"

"I should," I replied gravely. "I have seen as many as 50 men taking notes while in a trance in my lecture room."

"Nor in spirits?"
"Certainly I do. And in the Smoke of Prophecy, and the Powder of Death."

She looked rather black, and Jane flushed a trifle.

"What is more," I said, a trifle carried away by the tenaciousness of the room, perhaps, "I know that if I take a piece of chalk—have you any chalk, Jane?—and draw on the floor here the magic circle, and a triangle within it, no evil spirits can approach me. Get the chalk, dear. I promise I shall not be disturbed by so much as one demon."

In the laughter which followed the subject was dropped. But Helga Lark, when she gave me my tea, eyed me with amusement.

"You and your circle!" she said. "Don't you know that half these women more than half believe you?"

"And don't you?"
"You don't believe yourself."

"Still," I said, remembering Von Humboldt, "I am not an out and out skeptic. I will admit that Jock, there, who is acting as a vacuum cleaner under the table, can hear and see and smell things that I cannot. But I do not therefore believe he communicates with the spirit world."

"But he sees things you don't see. You admit that?"
"Certainly. He may see further into the spectrum than I do."

"Then, what does he see?" she said triumphantly.

A fortunate diversion enabled me to escape with a whole skin, but I think there was something rather quizzical in her smiling farewell. After all, it Jock does see things I do not, what does he see? I'm blessed if I know.

JUNE 20.
Jane knows that I have seen the picture, and that I know it is a double exposure. She has been signed, the final papers having been signed, I could see her almost physically bracing herself.

"So it's all set, my dear," I said. "And if we can get Annie Cochran to clean the place a bit—"

"Would you mind so very much," she asked, wistfully, "if we don't go there until after the summer?"

"But it's all settled. Edith is back on purpose."

(Note: The "Edith" of the Journal is my niece, who makes her home with us. At this time she was absent on a round of house-parties. A very lovely and popular girl, of whom more hereafter.)

"It's too large for us," said Jane. "I need a rest in the summer, not a big house to care for."

And there was a certain defensiveness in her statement which ended the conversation. As a result, and following our usual course when there is a difference between us, we have taken refuge in a polite silence all day, the familiar armed neutrality of marriage. An uncomfortable state of affairs, and aggravated by Edith's absence.

When she is here her bright talk fills in the gaps, and in the end she forces a rapprochement. . . . Lark has told Cameron about the picture. I met Cameron while taking-Jock for his evening walk tonight, and he re-introduced himself to me. After today's repression I fear I was a bit talkative, but he was a good listener.

Evidently he has a certain understanding of Jane's refusal to go to Twin Hollows, although he said very little.

"Horace are curious sometimes," was his comment.

But on the matter of the picture he was frankly interested.

"There is," he said, "a certain weight in the evidence for psychic photography. Mr. Porter, of course it is absurd to claim that all the curious photographs—and thousands of them come to me—are produced by discarnate intelligences. But there is something; I don't know just what."

Jane has gone to bed, still politely silent, and I am left alone to wrestle with my two problems: where to spend the summer, and why Jane finds the house at Twin Hollows what Cameron describes as curious.

A mild term, that, for Jane's feeling about the house. Actually, she hates it. Has always hated it. She has had no pride in our acquisition of it; she has even steadfastly refused to bring away from it any of that early American furniture with which old Horace had filled it.

Yet she collects early American furniture. I write tonight at an utterly inadequate early American desk, because of this taste of hers: Jock has at this moment curled his long length on the hard seat of a Windsor chair, because of it! And yet she will have none of Uncle Horace's really fine collection.

Nor is she of the type to listen to Annie Cochran's story that the old spirit of the house is haunted by the man killed there.

(Note: An old story and not authenticated, of the shooting of a man many years ago as he hid to escape the excise. As a matter of fact, none of our later experiences in the house bore out this particular tradition at all.)

If she has a distaste for it, it may possibly relate to the occupancy of the house by the Riggs woman before Uncle Horace bought it. But even here I am doubtful, for Mrs. Riggs was caught in most unbecoming fraud and entirely discredited as a medium.

JUNE 21st.
Edith is back. She came in this morning, kissed Jock, Jane and myself, Jock first, demanded an enormous breakfast and all the hot water in the house, and descended gaily a half hour later to the table, in her usual aura of bath salts, bath powder and sunshine.

"Well," she said, attacking her melon, "and when do we go to the haunted house?"

"Ask your Aunt."

She glanced at me and then shrewdly at Jane.

"Good heavens," she said. "Don't tell me there's any question about it?"

"It isn't decided yet," Jane said uneasily. "It's a big house, Edith, and—"

"All the more reason for taking it," said Edith, and having finished her melon flung out her predatory arms. "Gross," she said, "flowers, and the sea. I shall swim," she went on. "And old Father William shall fish, and Jane shall sew a fine seam. And at night the ghosts shall walk. And everything will be lovely."

She turned to me.

"You do believe in ghosts, don't you, Father William?"

And somehow even Jane caught some of the infection of her gaiety. "Ask him about the triangle in a circle," she said.

"What's that?" Edith inquired.

"The triangle in a circle, drawn tonight, and he re-introduced himself to me. After today's repression I fear I was a bit talkative, but he was a good listener."

Evidently he has a certain understanding of Jane's refusal to go to Twin Hollows, although he said very little.

"Horace are curious sometimes," was his comment.

But on the matter of the picture he was frankly interested.

"There is," he said, "a certain weight in the evidence for psychic photography. Mr. Porter, of course it is absurd to claim that all the curious photographs—and thousands of them come to me—are produced by discarnate intelli-

Jane to bring back with her marketing some frog skins and the ear-tuffs of an owl. . . .

So this afternoon things are looking brighter. And thus does man deceive himself! Only three days ago I was filled with vague yearnings and aspirations; I recorded here that my little rut was comfortable, but that I feared it.

I wrote: "Was my greatest adventure to be to drag a fish out of the water, and watch it drown, open-mouthed, in the air?"

And yet, at the mere thought of not going to Twin Hollows, of being thrown on the mercies of some Mountain House, or set on a horse in the Far West, I have been frightened almost into a panic.

The water-bugle indeed.

To Be Continued.

Treatments.
Do you recall bright days of blooming boughs when laughing Spring pledged Earth her happy vows and merry children stole a holiday to spend the pillared hours in boisterous play?

Those days seemed, strangely, of all days the best; those trust games were gayer than the rest, made brighter by the thoughts of busy mates who wasted sunny hours with books and slates.

A truant still, I journey down the years, escaped from life's hard school of schemes and fears, through slow grades of tolling I progress along the plotted path-ways to success, but wander at the will where joys are strewn. Who schemes for wealth is but a poor buffoon; who toils for fame must conquer many an ill; so from life's school I flee, a truant still!

We ought never to scoff at the wretched, for who can be sure of continued happiness?—La Fontaine.

DO'S AND DON'TS
—For—SUCCESS IN BUSINESS

By NELLIE E. GARDNER

Books and Bombs.

EVERYONE knows that bombs blow up. Many forget that booms do too.

The amateur investor, like the novice in business, is patient at the thought of conservative returns for his money and seeks the sensational, over-night success.

New industries, like boom towns, attract the new-comer. When the wireless was first invented, clever but inexperienced salesmen combed the rural districts to find hidden money.

And they found it. By hundreds and thousands, it came from savings banks—paid out in return for pretty gift certificates. Where are these certificates now?

Perhaps still locked away in the family safe or some wealth insurance against the rainy day—but more likely tucked away on the closet shelf, with useless papers and off the list of valuable assets.

Booms—whether in new towns or new ideas—are gold bricks. But they never should be played with by the investor in business or finance. They should be restricted to the rich, for whom their explosions can do little or no harm.

One of the anomalies of investment experience is that the man who can afford to take the least risks are determined to most.

Who is it that buys the mining shares of the unknown country? Who "falls for" the 100 per cent profit literature? Who sells his home and all his goods and departs in a motor for the tropical state where climate is a god, and estate salesmen a king?

It is the man or woman who CANNOT AFFORD to take chances.

True—once in a hundred thousand times, more or less, But what about the fellow who loses?

The one who is starting in business for himself, or is to study the investment field in order to provide for his own future, cannot do better than stick to the old "land" methods of slow, sure progress, and safety first.

Leave the booms for those rich enough to take chances. Then you will not be dodging bombs!

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS
An Aid for Tired Feet.
Shake a little powdered talcum into the stockings if you suffer from burning feet. You will find it a great relief.

Last Year's Hat.
Black straw hats will clean better if rubbed well with a piece of black velvet rather than brushing. The dust will be removed much more completely with this method of cleaning.

In Readiness.
If you do a great deal of preserving and jellymaking you will enjoy a 10-cent pan, to be used for melting paraffin. As the jelly is used, wash the paraffin cover and place it in the saucepan for future use. When needed the pan is put on the stove and enough melted to cover the jelly just completed.

To Remove the Label.
When the piece of material has a paper label on it do not wet the cloth to remove it, but draw the cloth in a bias direction, first one way and then the other. This will soon loosen the label so that it can be removed without injury to the fabric.

Freshness
Why risk it by a single careless wearing of your dress?

Put in suitable Kleenex's Shields at once—they protect your frock at its most vulnerable spot, the armhole.

There are weights, shapes and sizes for every costume and every occasion—be sure they are plainly marked Kleenex's.

Turkey "A la Milanese" and truss it as usual. Take large sausage, parboil and then, remove the skins and the meat. Scald, after soaking eight French prunes, remove stones and halve the fruit. Pare, and core four prunes, and blacken and boil a half pint of butters. Put two ounces of butter in a stewpan, add chestnuts, and the liver of the turkey. Has been blanched and coarsely chopped. Fry gently for a few minutes, then drain off the butter. Sprinkle with a small glass of home-made wine, pepper and salt. Stuff turkey breast with the mixture, rolling the sausage. Cover the turkey with slices of bacon and bake in the usual way. Baste frequently.

There'll be no cake for Jones. No custard when you are alone. There'll be no large bonbons. To feed your faithful ones. You will be in deep danger. Your father in despair. There'll be a dunescape in place. A switch beside your chair. Willie, Willie, don't be so. Learn your lessons well. Report cards go home. And marks are bound. Mind is the great thing; human thought is the essence by which human souls are eternally answered.—Whitman

THE HALCYON DAYS.

ONE are the days of long ago.

When a cut of pie was five a throw.

When a hundred bucks was important dough—

Gone are the days of yore

When a buck would purchase food galore

At the butcher shop or the grocery store—

Them was the days!

Gone are the days when a coach and pair,

That caused the public to turn and stare,

Was the true hall mark of a millionaire—

Gone are the days.

Gone are the days when the broad highway

Was not infested by bandits gay,

Who bumped you off and then ran away—

Those were the days.

Too True.

It would naturally have to be economic but good surveys can't be hired for a song as the feller says.

MUSSOLINI IS SHOT AND SLIGHTLY HURT BY WOMAN

Dictator Attacked Leaving Meeting by Middle Aged, Eccentric Daughter of Late British Lord.

WARNING AGAINST VIOLENCE IGNORED

Offices of Anti-Fascist Newspaper Sacked and Singing Crowds Carry Trophies Through Streets

By the Associated Press.

ROME, April 7.—Premier Mussolini narrowly escaped death from an assassin's bullet today.

Emerging from the Capitol, where he had just opened an international Congress of Surgeons, he was walking through the crowded square to his automobile, acknowledging the cheers of the crowds, when a middle-aged woman in a dark gown stepped close, pressed a revolver against his face and fired.

The Fascist chief staggered and clapped a hand to his nose, from which the blood streamed, but he retained the composure for which he is noted.

"A woman!" he exclaimed. "Fancy a woman!"

The woman, who seemed bent on taking vengeance for the attack on her chief, was rescued with difficulty and hurried to a cell where she was later identified as Violet Albina Gibson, 50 years old, daughter of the late Lord Ashbourne of England, and sister of the present Baron Ashbourne.

Mussolini, whose nostril had been perforated by the bullet, submitted to first aid treatment and then went to his residence, the Chigi palace, where he was visited by the foreign diplomats, including some of those accredited to the Vatican.

Immediately after the attack, which occurred at 11 o'clock and again after his arrival at the Chigi palace, the Duce categorically declared that no acts of retribution would be countenanced. Despite this edict, manifestations occurred and a crowd, breaking through police lines, sacked and set fire to the offices of 11 Mondo, the outstanding anti-Fascist newspaper. The fire was extinguished.

"As though to emphasize the slight nature of his wound, Mussolini in the afternoon fulfilled his engagements to preside at a ceremony of presentation of the 'revolting' secretaries of the Fascist party to the new party directorate.

The attack on the 11 Mondo offices was repeated at the premises of the two other opposition organs, Il Risorgimento, a Constitutional paper, and La Voce Repubblicana, organ of the Republicans. Their offices were invaded and devastated by the crowds, who carried all newspapers and documents found therein into the street and made bonfires of them. The crowds took the legs of chairs and tables and other pieces of furniture, making them into trophies, which they carried through the streets. The paraders carried flags and sang Fascist airs.

Crowds Before Palace.

Great crowds gathered in the square before the Chigi Palace. Various delegations sent within to inquire reported that the Premier's wound was slight, that he was doing very well and that he hoped to have recovered completely within a few days.

The crowd anxiously surrounded those emerging from the palace, looking for news. Some of the more notable figures were cheered, but the greatest applause was reserved for the ecclesiastics, and some of those in the crowd shouted "Long live the Pope."

Dr. Giuseppe Bastianelli, one of the best known medical specialists in Italy, attended the Premier and later issued a bulletin saying: "A wound due to a gunshot perforated the nostril, but it is not serious."

News of the attempted assassination created a sensation not only in Rome but throughout the country. The semi-clerical Stefani Agency says the immediate reaction was the organization of manifestations of loyalty to Mussolini.

Details of Attempt.

The details of the attempt on the Premier are given out by the semi-official agency follow: After the inauguration of the Congress of Surgeons, the Premier was walking through the crowded square to his automobile, acknowledging the cheers of the crowds, when a middle-aged woman in a dark gown stepped close, pressed a revolver against his face and fired.
